Government Takes Over Beauharnois Project

Parliament Asked To Vote New Control For Beauharnois

Premier Bennett Tells House Cabinet Is Annuling Order-in-Council on Which Company Proceeded and Will Lay Bill Before Members for Government To Take Over Enterprise for General Advantage of Canada, But Not Permanently To Operate It As Dominion-owned Public Utility.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 31.—The government proposes to annul the Federal order-in-council which approved of the Beauharnois Development. Premier Bennett made this announcement in the Commons this afternoon.

The government had prepared a bill to take over the Beauharnois enterprise for the general advantage of Canada. This could be done with the consent of the Province of Quebec, he said.

The bill to take over the works would not be operative until proclaimed.

The order-in-council granting 40,000 cubic feet a second to Beauharnois interests was being cancelled because of the circumstances under which it was obtained and because the interests had acted in defiance of the interests of Canada, said the Premier.

Parliament would be asked for authority to be vested in the Governor-in-Council to divert the 40,000 cubic feet a second from the stream. There would be one condition, and that was that investors who bought securities in good faith should be protected.

REPORT APPROVED
One report of the Beauharnois committee carried "on division" in the Commons this afternoon.

MISS MACPAIL SPEAKS
Carrying of the report on division followed a speech by Miss Agnes MacPail, Progressive Southern Grey, Ont. Premier Bennett had previously spoken at length and J. S. Woodsworth also had spoken.

King Urges Campaign Funds Investigation

Liberal Leader Suggests Royal Commission Be Named to Complete Inquiry Beauharnois Commons Committee Started

Ottawa, July 31.—With promotion Saturday night still looming as a probability and every effort being put forward toward that end, the Commons to-day continued its debate on the Beauharnois report, with the chief suggestion before it that made by Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, namely, a royal commission to inquire deeply into contributions to political campaign chests.

The Liberal leader holding "only a part of the story was told" the House committee during its sittings.

The royal commission, said Mr. King, should be composed of one representative of the Liberals, one from the Conservatives and a third from the Independent group.

While willing to accept the main recommendation of the committee that steps be taken to procure the project for the people of Canada as a whole, there were portions of the report which were unacceptable, said Mr. King in addressing the Commons yesterday evening. It contained innuendoes and insinuations wholly unjustified by facts. Evidence had been twisted to impart an inference it did not reflect truthfully.

WHENCE TORY FUNDS?
To carry on the work of the special Commons committee that delved into the affairs of the power and navigation company, the Liberal leader proposed investigation of the campaign funds of the various parties in the 1925, 1926 and 1930 elections.

The Conservative Party apparently was rich in funds. From what source did they spring? Open the books of all the parties and go to the bottom of the whole subject, he suggested. (Concluded on Page 22)

PLANE CARRIES SERUM TO INDIANS ON JAMES BAY

Canada Press

Ottawa, July 31.—Carrying a consignment of serum that will be used to combat an outbreak of infantile paralysis among the natives along the southeast shore of northern James Bay, a Royal Canadian Air force plane took off early to-day from the Rockcliffe airport here. Flying Officer Jack Bryans is piloting the plane on the mission of mercy.

Dropping down at Moose Factory, enroute on the James Bay shore, Officer Bryans expected to pick up a doctor and continue on to Port George, some 100 miles north. Meagre details of the outbreak of the disease have reached here, but it is known the settlement is a small one.

The airline from Ottawa to Moose Factory is 460 miles, and it was expected the "mercy ship" would make the hop in one jump, probably in something less than four hours.

Committee of Senate to Hear Dr. McDougald

Montreal Senator Offers to Explain His Connection With Beauharnois Affairs

Canadian Press
Montreal, July 31.—Senator W. L. McDougald of Montreal to-day wired Senator R. Dandurand, of the Senate committee named to consider the report of the special Commons Beauharnois committee, placing himself at its disposal.

Senator McDougald stated in his telegram he felt his colleagues in the Senate would wish to render him British fair play and that he would be given an opportunity of appearing before the committee "to make such statements and to give such evidence as required under oath in substantiation in every particular of his honesty of purpose and of his desire at all times to maintain the high dignity of the Senate and to promote the best interests of the country regardless of his personal concern."

HONOR NOT IMPAIRED
Senator McDougald in his message stated nothing in the testimony before the Beauharnois special committee as a whole, in any just or fair interpretation, tended to show either his conduct or dealings reflected adversely in any manner on his personal integrity or on the honor and dignity of the Senate.

Dr. McDougald sent a copy of his telegram to Senator W. B. Willoughby, government party leader in the Senate.

The Senate yesterday selected a committee and instructed it to consider the best method of dealing with the report of the Commons committee which investigated the Beauharnois project. The committee is composed of three Liberals and three Conservatives. One of the members is Senator Dandurand, leader of the Liberals in the Senate. The Conservatives are Senators Tanner, Griesbach and Beaulieu.

Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson Takes Oath of Office at 11 o'Clock To-morrow

E. J. Lemaire, clerk of the Privy Council of Canada, arrived in the city this morning from Ottawa to administer the oath of office to Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, who will to-morrow officially become British Columbia's fourteenth Lieutenant-Governor.

The formalities in connection with the installation of the new Lieutenant-Governor in office will take place at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning in the executive chamber at the Parliament Buildings.

Final arrangements for the interesting ceremony were completed to-day when Mr. Lemaire interviewed Premier Tolmie.

The actual administration of the oath of office will be a brief affair, and will be held privately in the presence of Premier Tolmie and the members of the House, and Chief Justice the Hon. J. A. Macdonald, who has been performing the duties of administrator for several months past.

To take over the office of Lieutenant-Governor in succession to the Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, the Hon. Mr. Fordham Johnson will reach Victoria to-morrow morning from Vancouver.

Subsequent to the installation ceremony the new Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Fordham Johnson will take up their residence at Government House.

WORLD FLIERS SPEED EAST ACROSS SIBERIA

Canadian Press

Moscow, July 31.—Hugh Herndon Jr. and Clyde Pangborn flying around the world in an effort to lower the mark set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, hopped off from here late to-day for Irkutsk. They got away at 5:20 p.m. (6:20 a.m. Victoria time).

They had excellent flying weather from Berlin although there were some head winds.

Post and Gatty stayed here more than twelve hours and by reducing the length of their stop Herndon and Pangborn hoped to make up considerable time.

HAVE ADVANTAGES
One advantage on their side is that they can relieve each other at the stick while the ship is in the air. Post handled the controls throughout the earlier flight, Gatty serving as navigator.

Profiting by the experience of their predecessors, Herndon and Pangborn fitted their plane with oversize wheels to prevent getting stuck in the mud as Post and Gatty did at Blagoveshensk, eastern Siberia.

After leaving here they hoped to fly at least twenty-four hours before landing again. They should take them almost to Irkutsk in the middle of Siberia.

BEHIND GATTY, POST TIME
They were approximately seventeen hours behind the time set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, but they still believe they could make up the time they had lost and lower the round-the-world record.

The flight from Berlin required a little more than ten hours. The first thing they did on arriving here was to (Concluded on Page 2)

While bound from Victoria to Seattle, the Canadian National steamer Prince David, with sixty-eight passengers aboard, ran ashore off Point Wilson, near Port Townsend, at 10:45 o'clock this morning when feeling her way through a thick fog in the Straits. Her passengers were taken aboard by the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Kathleen and brought to Victoria. The crew is standing by, messages received from the ship, said, Capt. Edward Mabbs is commander of the Prince David.

Message received here from Port Townsend said the steamer was in no danger, and it is believed she is badly damaged, although it is said her bottom is punctured. She ran aground at dead low water, which lends salvage experts in Victoria to believe that she will come off easily at high water mark. The United States coastguard headquarters at Port Townsend were advised by wireless of the ship's plight, and immediately sent a cutter to stand by and lend what aid she could.

Weather reports from Port Townsend said the sea is calm, but is still shrouded in a thick fog. There was nothing spectacular about the grounding, it was said, as the ship was not going full speed. She slid on the rock, however, with quite a severe jolt. The passengers were ordered to the boats, which were lowered over the side and towed out to where the Princess Kathleen was anchored.

The Kathleen was on schedule time out of Seattle this morning which brought her off Point Wilson a few minutes after the Prince David ran ashore. She slowed up and on receiving wireless messages from the captain of the David, dropped anchor and awaited developments. It was a full hour before it was decided to transfer the passengers. During this time the David (Concluded on Page 2)

Capone Trial Is Sent Over To September

Gang Leader Wins A Point and Loses a Point in Chicago Court

Chicago, July 31.—"Scarface Al" Capone was granted leave to withdraw his plea of guilty to indictment for violation of the Income Tax laws in an unexpected morning court session here to-day.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson set the case for trial September 8 and announced he would reserve decision until that date on the gangster's motion to withdraw his guilty plea on the indictment for conspiring against the Prohibition Law.

On adjourning court yesterday Judge Wilkerson indicated he would give his decision at 2 p.m. to-day, and this morning's summons was a surprise.

NEW CHARGE
In a brief statement in open court the judge said he believed the specific accusations made by the grand jury required a more serious charge than that contemplated in the liquor conspiracy indictment, and he summoned the grand jury before him and directed the evidence be presented anew before it.

Relative to the agreement between government attorneys and defence counsel that the prosecution would make certain recommendations, as asserted by the defence to mean a lenient penalty, Judge Wilkerson observed.

"As the cases are to be tried, the interests of justice require there be no further comment on the proposed recommendations or arrangement that was attempted with reference to it."

HEAVY PENALTY
In the enumeration of overt facts the defendants and others are charged with substantial offences within the period of the statute of limitations for which a heavier penalty is provided than possible under the conspiracy indictment.

CONFERENCE ON FINANCING OF YEAR'S CROP

Hon. Howard McConnell to Represent Saskatchewan Government at Ottawa

Regina, July 31.—Hon. Howard McConnell, provincial treasurer, who is now in Toronto, will represent the Saskatchewan Government at the wheat marketing conference to be held by Premier R. B. Bennett and representatives of the three pools and provincial governments at Ottawa, on Monday.

Premier J. T. M. Anderson wired the provincial treasurer and received confirmation of his readiness to attend the conference, to-day.

"It will deal primarily with the financing of this year's crop," Premier Anderson said when asked to outline matters to come before the conference. Other than that he declined to comment.

The whole matter, he explained, depends now upon the reception given by Premier Bennett of recommendations to be made as a result of the Winnipeg conference. The recommendations follow on the scheme of a marketing corporation suggested by Premier R. B. Bennett.

While no pool representative to the conference has been appointed yet, it is understood that A. J. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative, will leave for Ottawa to-night.

No statement has been made by the pool officials so far as to the initial payment of the 1931 crop.

WALKERS MAY FACE CHARGES

Vancouver Competitors May Be Embraced in Lord's Day Summonses

Vancouver, July 31.—A flat issued by Attorney-General R. H. Pooley, authorizing prosecution of the Asena Walkathon for alleged violation of the Lord's Day Act, has been received by Police Chief W. J. Bingham.

Before a summons is issued, however, he will confer with City Prosecutor Oscar Orr to decide what steps will be taken by authorities. It is stated that police are not yet decided whether to confine prosecution to the promotion company, Canadian Northwest Amusement Co., or whether to include participants in the contest.

The alleged violations, it is stated, consist in continuance over Sundays of the competition.

MILLS ON COAST HALF SHUT DOWN

Seattle, July 31.—During the week ending July 30, out of 343 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, 173 plants were shut down and 170 operating, the association said to-day.

The mills which were shut down, it was stated, were operating at 50 per cent of capacity.

All the mills operated at 39.28 per cent of capacity that week as compared to 39.28 per cent the preceding week and 49.45 per cent the same week last year.

Current new business reported by 223 mills was 10.55 per cent over production and shipments were 22.95 per cent over. The total new business was about 9,000,000 feet for the week. New export business was about 1,400,000 feet less than the previous week, the rail trade had an increase of about 1,100,000 feet and the domestic cargo trade 9,000,000 feet. The local trade dropped 700,000 feet.

During the past twenty-nine weeks of 1931 orders for 223 mills have averaged 2.28 per cent over production.

made several attempts to free herself from her rocky bed, but the powerful engines failed because of the lowness of the water. Her only hope of coming off under her own power is at high tide.

The passengers were removed by coastguard patrol boats. The tug Roosevelt and Des of Seattle were this afternoon on their way to Point Wilson to try and pull the vessel off. High tide is at 6.40 p.m. and it is believed the Prince David, although she made a hole in her bottom, will be pulled off before that. The ship is discharging oil preparatory to the effort to remove her from the rocky bottom on which she struck at 10.45 a.m.

SAVAGE SHIP READY

The salvage steamer Salvage King was standing by at her dock in Victoria ready to proceed at a moment's notice to the aid of the Prince David should her assistance be needed. All her salvage gear was aboard and her crew assembled within an hour after news of the ship's mishap was received in Victoria. Unless the ship is commenced operating on the tri-city run between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle last summer. The Prince Henry is now on the Alaska run, while the Prince Robert operates opposite the Prince David on the local schedule.

The London Telegraph stigmatized the case against Morland as obviously worthless and said it should never have been brought into court. Concerning Lord Kylesant's conviction, the paper said "surely the man in the street will ask why, if the prospects were culpable, Lord Kylesant should alone be in the dock; all the directors 'pecc' in the dock; all the directors who signed it. There may be good reasons, but they should be stated."

Big Reduction In Outlays In Britain Urged

Commission's Report to Commons Suggests Legislation For $482,890,000 Cuts

London, July 31.—Reductions totaling $482,890,000 (about $482,890,000), were recommended to-day in a report to the Commons by the government commission created to investigate the possibilities of cutting government expenditures.

The principal item proposed is a decrease in unemployment benefits and an increase in the weekly contributions of workers and employers to tennance (about twenty cents) per worker, by which $66,500,000 (about $66,500,000) would be saved.

The commission also recommended a saving of $39,325,000 by postponement of road-building projects and reduction of the present high standard of maintenance, abolition of the Empire Marketing Board, reduction of the costs of the Empire defence and the government's expenditure on the British Broadcasting Company, reduction of teachers' salaries by twenty per cent, and reduction of costs to higher education by fifty to sixty per cent.

Reductions are recommended in police salaries. Abandonment of the development of the state maternity service is suggested. The road fund would be abolished and all proceeds of motor taxation would be left in the exchequer, grants to be made only by parliamentary vote.

EMPIRE DEFENCE

The recommendation is made that some time in the future consideration be given to a more equitable distribution of the costs of Empire defence and the government is advised to appoint a representative committee before the next naval conference to inquire into the whole subject of naval design and consider whether modifications are possible without endangering naval security.

The bulky report is considered one of the most important documents in recent parliamentary history. The commission was headed by Sir George May.

In a letter to Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, accompanying the report, Sir George May recommended that the dirigible R-100 be either destroyed or sold, and that after this year expenditures on airships be reduced to $100,000.

A minority report by two labor members expressed disagreement with the proposed reduction in the dole.

Premier MacDonald announced a cabinet committee composed of himself, the Chancellor, Sir George May, Henderson, Foreign Secretary, and Rt. Hon. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade, had been set up to consider the report during the parliamentary holiday.

POOL TANGLE UP TO BRACKEN

Brandon, July 31.—Premier John Bracken today was the center of a worried pool delegates tangled in the complications of the proposal for reorganization of the Manitoba Wheat Pool's system. The Manitoba Premier arrived from Winnipeg shortly before noon and immediately entered the delegates' session which opened yesterday.

Opinion of Bracken is sought on the suggestion that elevator associations which have surplus to their credit on 1929 and 1930 crop operations be allowed to pay out the surplus as patronage dividends to shareholders, instead of handing them over to the government to apply on general pool indebtedness arising out of 1929 crop overpayments.

No move as yet has been taken as to announcing the 1931 crop initial payment for pooled wheat or on the estimated at $200,000 resulted to crop, stock and buildings in the Ganado irrigation district from a cyclonic storm followed by hail last night.

The hail laid bare a eighty-square-mile area. The Ganado irrigation district is near Fort Defiance.

WILL ANNOUNCE GERMAN FINANCE PLANS SHORTLY

Statement Expected From Berlin at End of Week; Commission Ends Work

Canadian Press
Berlin, July 31.—A comprehensive programme to cope with Germany's financial difficulties will be made public by the end of the week, according to expectations to-day.

Details of the plan, on which the cabinet has been working in almost uninterrupted sessions recently, have been closely guarded and will remain a secret until announced by Chancellor Brüning.

The so-called "freezing commission," which attempted to draw a procedure by which foreign credits would remain undisturbed in Germany, completed its labors yesterday and the foreign financial expert members left for their homes.

The commission did not issue a statement setting forth its conclusions. It was reported unofficially that a plan had been drawn up and that the conference was in agreement, at least in principle, on the main lines.

MACDONALD'S OPINION

London, July 31.—Premier MacDonald told the Commons to-day that as a result of his visit to Berlin he was convinced the seven-power conference in London had taken the proper steps to relieve the immediate financial difficulties of Germany.

The Prime Minister pointed out the visit of himself and Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, to Berlin, had been originally planned to return to the visit to London early in June by Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany.

"The opportunity, however, was taken," Mr. MacDonald said, "to pursue the conversations which began at Chequers and to examine the financial position of Germany in relation to the work done at the London conference."

"As a result of these conversations we are further convinced the action proposed at the conference should receive the immediate financial difficulties of Germany and enable complete judgment to be formed as to whether Germany requires further credits and in what form they should be supplied."

"During our stay in Berlin we also reviewed important questions in which the two countries are interested, such as disarmament and the general convention on hours to be worked in coal mines."

"I can assure the House the welcome we received from the public and press as well as from the government was of the most cordial nature."

SALARIES CUT IN AUSTRALIA

New South Wales M.P.P.'s Asked to Make $2,500 Maximum For Civil Servants

Sydney, Australia, July 31.—Although Premier J. T. Lang has begun to enforce in the State of New South Wales the economies agreed on at the recent conference of Australian federal and state premiers, there is still a considerable breach of sentiment between the left-wing Labor Party in power under Lang here and the federal administration at Canberra.

This was strikingly illustrated yesterday when Premier Lang, in submission to the resolution of the premiers' conference, introduced into the Legislative Assembly the bill reducing salaries of civil servants. Injustices would continue, charged the Premier, until the people of New South Wales obtained "self-government."

He believed, he said, that the British Labor Government, if asked, would not refuse to exercise its power to grant self-government to New South Wales.

"DEATH KNELL"

As Premier Lang, although with reluctance, was carrying out the premier's programme by introducing the economy measure, the president of public services gave the lead to extreme labor criticism of the bill by saying it was the death knell for the Labor Party in New South Wales for a generation.

The act reduces all salaries of civil servants at present receiving more than $2,500 a year to that figure, which will be the maximum salary from August 1, 1932.

If the saving is insufficient, there will then be a further decrease, according to the undertaking given by Premier Lang to the conference of premiers. No adult official will receive less than $25 a week under the bill, which on Wednesday received the support of the state Labor Party as a whole.

TO AVOID TURMOIL

The court gave its decision shortly after 10.30 a.m. having summoned attorneys to the court, and apparently desiring to avoid the turmoil of crowds that attended yesterday's session.

Michael Ahern was present to represent the gang chief, and he took no part in the proceedings.

Judge Wilkerson made the statement of the indictment, and set the case for hearing September 8 and adjourned court. Capone was not present. U.S. District Attorney George Q. Johnson said the case would be set for September 8 for late in that month.

"Lone Eagle" and Wife Talk With Experienced Northern Canadian Fliers in Ottawa

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 31.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, formerly Ann Morrow, were prepared to take off in their monoplane to-day, although there was little possibility of their leaving before to-morrow morning, if then.

The Lindberghs arrived at the government airport here yesterday afternoon, after a speedy flight from North Haven, Maine, and yesterday evening the colonel conferred with experienced northern fliers regarding their route over Northern Canada. Further conferences were held to-day with a final reckoning of the low-wing monoplane also to be completed before the start of the colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh on their long trip to Tokyo.

At an informal dinner at Col. MacDonald's Rockliffe home yesterday evening the colonel met the benefit of their experience in the uninhabited territory of the Lindberghs as to cross the Barren Lands, but authentic information decreed it was not a hazardous flight.

MUKDEN FORCE RETAKES AREA

Tientsin, China, July 31.—The Mukden forces which are acting in conjunction with the National government launched a counter-attack to-day against the troops of the rebel warlord, Gen. Shi Yu-shan, and after several hours of severe fighting captured the positions north of Pooting they had lost yesterday.

The Mukden army was reinforced before the battle.

The Pooting defences are expected to change hands frequently during the next few days while the Mukden forces attempt to recapture the whole position.

GANGSTERS MAKE WHOLESALE HAUL

Bristol, Pa., July 31.—Five men, armed with pistols and shotguns, broke off shot guns, lined forty-two men against the walls of a cigar store and poolroom here early to-day and robbed them of money and jewelry, estimated to be worth between $4,000 and $5,000.

Big Oil Tank In Bermuda Explodes

Hamilton, Bermuda, July 31.—A huge oil storage tank maintained by the West India Oil Company on the North shore of St. George's Island burst into flames early to-day with a shattering explosion and was still burning at noon.

Firemen were devoting their efforts to preventing a spread of the flames to a smaller tank nearby. Both tanks are remote from other structures, and the one which exploded, although its capacity was 1,500,000 gallons, was only about one-third full.

Prospectors Get Food From Air

Ketchikan, Alaska, July 31.—Two prospectors seeking gold on the headwaters of the Ledue River had fresh food supplies brought to them yesterday by air.

PARLIAMENT ASKED TO VOTE NEW CONTROL FOR BEAUMARIS

Lindbergh were in the distinguished visitors' gallery with Col. Hanford MacNider, U.S. Minister to Canada, and Mrs. MacNider.

WOODSWORTH SPEAKS

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre, the first speaker, said the outside public was far from satisfied with the result of the Beaumaris investigation. In the first place the public demanded punishment for those who had offended. Secondly, it demanded, or at least a considerable body demanded, that the project be carried on under public ownership. Finally, the public demanded that legislation which would render such things impossible in the future should be passed.

He said the Beaumaris report should be placed in the archives. One hundred years from now it would provide a "revelation" on political morals in the dark ages of 1930.

Government control of the enterprise was needed, said Mr. Woodsworth.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

A central fund of one or two millions was necessary to pay the legitimate expenses of a party during a general election, proceeded Mr. Woodsworth, but "if corporation funds are the determining factor in elections," he asked what the result would be. As he asked what the result would be, he asked what the result would be.

sions was called a "dead letter" by Mr. Woodworth.

Premier Bennett, who followed Mr. Woodworth, said that for three hours and a half yesterday the opposition leader had attempted to throw up "smoke screen" to prevent the matter being discussed. He had never heard a speech in which there were so many irrelevances. Mr. King had devoted great deal of time to defending himself.

"He was not on trial," asserted the Prime Minister. "If he wanted to give evidence, why did he not appear before the committee and give it under oath?"

He would not follow the course pursued yesterday evening by Mr. King. He would not state what he believed to be facts, because he had not been a witness, the Premier continued. However, the opportunity had been there for Mr. King to give testimony before the committee. Next year, he said, he would be in a position to do so.

FORM OF INQUIRY

Over a year ago he had suggested a judicial tribunal should be appointed to investigate Beaumaris. But after the ill-adviced attack made in May of this year by Mr. Gardiner on the judges and the judiciary, it was obvious to him, said the Prime Minister, that a judicial inquiry was no longer possible. He was only too pleased the course of events had justified him. Judges should not be asked to sit on matters of this kind. The status of Canada did not contemplate it, and it would be injurious to the best interests of this country.

INQUIRY IN 1899

The Prime Minister recalled the circumstances of the parliamentary inquiry into the West Huron and Brockville elections of 1899. A highly creditable report was rendered, but some members thought the inquiry should have been more thorough. Next year, he said, he would appoint a commission to investigate the personnel of that committee including judges. But that commission never sat. The dominating reason being that those judges realized how it would detract from their dignity if they were to sit as commissioners on matters of this character.

He had greater faith in the House to-day than he had ever had, continued the Premier, because a committee of the House had been able to arrive at such an opinion.

MENTIONS INCOME TAX

Premier Bennett said he would not deal with the personal attack directed against him yesterday evening by Mr. King, who had spent hours in insinuation and innuendo. He had talked about "if this was so" and "that was so," and had thrown a smoke screen to divert the minds of the public of this country from the affairs of Beaumaris to the income tax, said the Premier.

Premier Bennett charged that in an endeavor by the "cunning device" which had marked his career, Mr. King in his speech yesterday evening had tried to divert the attention of the people of this country from Beaumaris.

"Do you call that decency," the Prime Minister asked, after referring to certain remarks of the Liberal leader.

"Some of you may call that high political art, but that would not deceive the Canadian people."

"Show me where within the four corners of the evidence there was anything that warranted the observations of Mr. King," said the Prime Minister.

ALASKA FEVER WAVE SPREADS

Epidemic in Northland Extends to Scattered Districts

Juneau, Alaska, July 31.—The scarlet fever epidemic, which threatened to take the lives of eleven natives at Nushagak village, was reported to-day to have spread into scattered localities.

Dr. Borland was authorized yesterday to obtain the services of nurses, a boat and supplies and leave for the section. Nushagak village is on the north shore of Bristol Bay.

The messages were received by Governor Parks and Charles Hawkenworth, acting chief of the division of Indian Affairs.

Prairie Wheat Ripens Prematurely; Grasshoppers Busy

Ottawa, July 31.—Crop report of the Bureau of Statistics says:

"Wheat, now generally in head, is said to be ripening prematurely over practically the entire area of the three prairie provinces where farmers specialize in its production. Crops which were already light and patchy in southern and western Manitoba, south-central Saskatchewan and southern Alberta, suffered greatly as moisture supplies were soon exhausted under the drastically unfavorable weather conditions.

"From the outskirts of the wheat areas—northern and eastern Manitoba, northern Saskatchewan and west-central and northern Alberta—more promising reports were received, but even in these districts conditions were sustained rather than improved. In some areas of Alberta, the report continues, the heat was even welcomed for its effect in maturing backward growth.

"Rye and barley are now being cut and are generally showing very poor yields. Earliest yields of wheat will be ready for the binder within a few days and cutting will be general over wide areas before mid-August.

"Grasshoppers are reported as particularly destructive in Manitoba and Alberta and their numbers, the bureau says, suggest further damage next year. Destructive hail storms covered considerable areas in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Prairies May Get Cheaper Gas From Own Wells

Calgary, July 31.—Wide distribution of Turner Valley naphtha, partially refined, at a price of 24 cents a gallon in Calgary was assured this morning.

Negotiations between independent operators and larger oil refiners which have hitherto not handled the Turner Valley product are now proceeding.

Definite statement that the North Star Oil Company would endeavor to make arrangements to handle Turner Valley gasoline as soon as possible was made Monday by W. R. McArthur, manager in Calgary.

"If there is a public demand for this type of gasoline, we will have to make arrangements to meet it," Mr. McArthur stated. "It will be washed and, possibly, colored."

The Union Oil Company does not plan to handle Turner Valley gasoline at present, according to F. J. Reid, office manager. "We also intend to maintain the quality of our product, and for this reason do not intend to reduce the price," Mr. Reid said.

At the offices of the British-American and Texas companies, it was stated that no announcement could be made at once concerning the sale of Turner Valley gasoline, but it was intimated that the Turner Valley product might be marketed by these firms if suitable arrangements can be made.

Informed of the intention of the North Star Company, the secretary of the Oil and Gas Association of Alberta, expressed satisfaction.

"The North Star Company, with its wide distribution facilities, will be definitely associated with the oil industry of Alberta," Mr. Lane said. "Such action by refining companies, not previously handling Turner Valley gasoline, will do much to offset importations of crude oil by firms not interested in the development of fields in the province and will also counteract, to some extent, the enforced action of Imperial, only to accept 50 per cent of deliveries from Turner Valley companies."

Mr. Lane also predicted that the move by large refiners would result in the distribution of Turner Valley naphtha over a much wider area than at present.

MARLER'S WORK IS GIVEN PRAISE BY BENNETT

Premier Tells Commons Minister Adds to Canada's Trade With Japan

Ottawa, July 31.—Tribute to the work performed by Hon. Herbert M. Marler, Canadian Minister to Japan, in promoting trade with the Orient, was paid in the Commons yesterday by Premier Bennett. The Prime Minister stated Mr. Marler had again on his list of duties with enthusiasm and discharged them "zealously and with great skill." He had done much to raise the name of Canada in the Japanese capital.

Reference to Mr. Marler came when an appropriation of $80,000 for expenses of the Tokyo Legation was under consideration by the House in committee of supply. The item was approved.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, asked if the Prime Minister had not changed his mind a little about the Tokyo Legation. In 1928, Mr. Bennett had said that what Canada needed in the Orient was trade commissioners. He was then opposed to setting up legations, with accompanying gold lace and uniforms, when Canada's status was what it was.

Premier Bennett replied the duties discharged by Mr. Marler had been largely of a commercial nature. These duties he had entered on with enthusiasm and discharged with zeal. As a result, in part of information which he had given to the government, two more offices were to be opened by the Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Far East.

Lapointe Criticizes Ferguson's Speeches

Ottawa, July 31.—The Dominion Day speech of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, was criticized by Mr. Lapointe, Minister of Finance, in the Commons yesterday when the appropriation of $132,260 for salaries and expenses of the office in London was reviewed in committee of the House. Mr. Lapointe, Liberal, Quebec East, asked the Prime Minister if the "festivities" such as were held on Dominion Day in London were paid for by the people of Canada.

"My right honorable friend realizes," said Mr. Lapointe, "that it would be rather hard if those Canadians who are abused on these occasions by the High Commissioner because their views did not coincide with his, have to pay these costs."

Okanagan to Store Apples and Onions

Vernon, B.C., July 31.—Vernon is to have a cold storage plant for the commercial storage of apples and onions. This is the outcome of the decision reached at a meeting of the shareholders of the Inland Ice Company and Pemberton and Sons, Vancouver, Limited, the financial interests behind the West Canadian Hydro-electric Corporation.

Capt. J. J. Logan, manager of the Inland Ice Company, is to be manager of the new concern, and construction is to commence immediately. Vernon tenders were not successful, and the award was given the Ryan Construction Company, Vancouver. The building, 100 by 100, four stories high, is to cost approximately $80,000, and is to be ready for occupancy September 15. Storage capacity will be for cars of apples and about thirty-five cars of onions.

Wages Not Reduced But Hours Adjusted

New York, July 31.—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation slashed its disbursements to common stockholders in half, but less drastically than some expected.

Directors ordered a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, against $1 paid in the previous quarter. At their April meeting, they had reduced the bonus-time quarterly payment of $1.50 to $1.

E. G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, second largest unit in this drastically hit industry, said the corporation had made no reduction in its rate of either salaries or wages.

He explained, however, that working hours, not only of mill workers, but of office workers as well, had been reduced and compensation adjusted accordingly.

HENRY FORD HAS BIRTHDAY

Detroit, July 31.—Time, like fortune, has been kind to Henry Ford.

So said his friends yesterday as the motor magnate observed his sixtieth birthday. Mr. Ford did not "celebrate" his birthday, for it was "just another day" to him.

Apparently in the best of health and spirits, he spent most of the day in the gardens of his estate, "Fairlane," at Dearborn and in the engineering laboratory of his plant, "just across the road."

ABITIBI REOPENING

Toronto, July 31.—The Abitibi Power and Paper Company will recommence operation of its new plant at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on September 1. Hon. William Finlayson, Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests, announced yesterday.

SHORTAGE OF GAS IN CALIFORNIA?

An interesting situation has developed in California over the supply of natural gas for industrial and domestic purposes. Millions of dollars have been invested in pipelines to convey natural gas to San Francisco and Los Angeles. Owing to the fact that state control boards are prorating all California oilfields to a minimum production and that wells cannot produce gas without producing oil at the same time, an actual shortage of gas is being felt. Wells producing gas without oil are being favored at the moment. Gas companies are paying 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to suppliers with the possibility of the rate being increased.

STARNES MADE MAJOR-GENERAL

Given Promotion on Retiring as R.C.M.P. Head; MacBrien Takes Post To-morrow

Ottawa, July 31.—Commissioner Cortlandt Starnes retired to-day from his post as head of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police with the rank of major-general. Official announcement to this effect was made. Commissioner Starnes had held the rank of colonel. He retired after forty-five years' service.

Major-General J. H. MacBrien, former chief of the militia staff of the Department of National Defence, will succeed Colonel Starnes as commissioner, assuming his duties to-day.

Promotion on retirement as commissioner was made in 1923 in the case of a previous commissioner, Major-General Perry, who now is living in Vancouver.

LEGATIONS ARE TO BE CONTINUED, SAYS BENNETT

Ottawa, July 31.—The legations established by Canada in foreign countries will be maintained. "We will support in every possible way their usefulness," Premier Bennett told the Commons yesterday when the appropriation of $100,000 for the Washington legation was under consideration. The vote was carried. The Prime Minister, however, had doubts as to whether these legations were worth the money from a purely diplomatic point of view.

The government intended to maintain the foreign legations to the best of its ability, "hoping that as the days go by a clearer perception of their value in the field of commercial activities may make their maintenance more desirable and more justifiable," Mr. Bennett said. "If you consider them and weigh them in the pure realm of diplomatic usefulness, you will find it hard to justify some portions of the expenditures incurred." From the standpoint of commercial activities, however, Mr. Bennett thought the benefits outweighed the costs.

The discussion was brought up when Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, read from Mr. Bennett's speeches when in opposition in which he argued that the Dominion's representatives should be incorporated in the personnel of the British embassies so the Empire would, on diplomatic issues, speak with a united voice.

Mr. King compared this with Hon. W. H. Herridge, the present Canadian Minister to the United States, saying the Canadian Legation served a useful purpose to Canada in bringing the whole Empire together.

Declaring the present government was faced with the concrete situation on the legations already established and would continue them, Mr. Bennett said he had supported the doctrine of Sir Robert Borden, that Canada should have its legations in the same premises as the British embassies to proclaim solidarity of the Empire. He had not changed his views in that regard. He thought, however, Canadian commercial attaches should be separate from the British embassies.

"What the ultimate effect will be of the assertion in strange countries of sovereignty which you do not possess and of a position which we cannot in any sense occupy unless we change our relations to the motherland and to the other parts of the British Empire, is a matter which will not be settled in a single day, a single year, five years or ten," said Mr. Bennett.

Commons Speeds Up on Voting Of Appropriations

Ottawa, July 31.—The Commons yesterday afternoon made rapid progress with the estimates, voting many millions of dollars in a few minutes.

Appropriations for the External Affairs Department totalling $226,343 in the main estimates and $5,000 in supplementary estimates carried, following some discussion, but the debate over the other items passed with utmost rapidity.

They included $159,000 for insurance; $174,040 for salaries, etc., of the Senate staff; $705,390 for the House of Commons personnel; $83,000 for the Parliamentary Library; $70,000 for printing; $37,000 for civil service salaries, including promotions, etc.; $78,000 additional for the House of Commons; $49,000 for scientific institutions; $3,200,000 for adjustment of war claims; $461,751 for the Department of Trade and Commerce; $2,016,000 for mail subsidies and $284,544 for miscellaneous items.

Many Poisoned By Salad at Park Picnic

Reading, Pa., July 31.—Stricken while attending a picnic at Carsonia Park here late yesterday, nearly two score persons were suffering from symptoms of poisoning to-day, eleven of them in hospital.

Several hundred persons ate at the park restaurant. A short time later many became violently ill. Victims were taken from the merry-go-round and other amusements, others collapsed along the midway and others swooned while seeing seclusion in remote parts of the park.

According to the restaurant manager, a large number of persons had eaten potato salad at the evening meal.

Boughault, French Flier, Loses Life

Berre, France, July 31.—Lieut. Boughault, one of the best-known of the post-war aviators in France, was killed yesterday while testing a new plane which was to have been entered in the Schneider Cup races.

The propeller broke while the ship was in the air and it crashed in a pond.

Lieut. Boughault flew from Marcellies to Madagascari five years ago.

FOODS PROFITS HOLD

Toronto, July 31.—The report of General Foods Corporation and subsidiaries for the second quarter shows net profits of $4,595,059, after all charges and expenses, equal to 87 cents a share on the 5,256,350 shares of no par value common stock outstanding June 30. This compares with net profits of $4,638,952, or 88 cents a share for the corresponding quarter last year when there were 5,284,649 shares outstanding.

Net profits for the first six months totaled $10,167,456, equivalent to 193 cents a share, or 43 cents above the $1.50 dividend requirement—for the six-month period. For the first six months of 1930 the company earned $10,629,716 or $2.01 a share.

"Reports received this month from our district offices," says G. M. Chester Jr., president, "reveal a healthier sentiment among the grocery trade in most sections of the country. We find that inventories, both wholesale and retail, are at very low levels and the need for replenishing should stimulate business in the near future."

SMALL BUSINESS WORST HIT

Small businesses, with a capital of $5,000 or less, furnished 74.5 per cent of the total number failing last year, which compares with 71.5 per cent in the previous week and 67.1 per cent in the corresponding week of 1930. Broad-streets reported to-day. Those with a capital of $5,000 to $20,000 made up 13.6 per cent of the total number, as against 14.6 per cent last week and 23.9 per cent in the like week a year ago.

THE RIGHT COURSE

MR. BENNETT ASSURED THE HOUSE of Commons yesterday that legations established by Canada in foreign countries will be maintained—and "we will support in every possible way their usefulness." And while the Prime Minister is not yet convinced that these establishments are worth the money from the purely diplomatic point of view, he declared his belief that from the standpoint of commercial activities the benefits outweigh the cost.

This is a satisfactory pronouncement. If Mr. Bennett considers the legations paying propositions from the "standpoint of commercial activities," there is no need to assess their value as diplomatic establishments. The major part of Canada's diplomatic work is transacted at the legation in Washington, where, judged by the number of matters the Canadian Minister to the United States is called upon to deal, matters in which this country and the neighboring republic are intimately concerned, this Dominion is getting full value for the money in the diplomatic sense, too. Indeed, if a dollar-and-cents value can be put upon such diplomatic service as this country's representative at the United States capital has been able to render, it would probably carry the cost of the diplomatic work of all the other legations, leaving them to be thoroughly well-paying propositions from the purely commercial standpoint.

Parliament voted the first appropriation for the establishment of this form of Canadian representation abroad when Sir Robert Borden was Prime Minister. The vote went through each year; but it was not until the King government appointed Mr. Massey as Canada's Minister to Washington that the appropriation was utilized. Incidentally, the party which Mr. Bennett now leads, together with a section of the press which supports it, visualized Canadian ambassadors running around in all the capitals of the world, and not a few colonial-minded critics of Sir Robert Borden's original policy saw the waste of money being shattered by this show of diplomatic independence. Mr. Bennett has made his position clear, however; and, of course, he is unlikely to apologize for his selection of Mr. Massey's successor at Washington.

THE CASE OF MACINTOSH AND BLAND

ABOUT TWO MONTHS AGO THE Supreme Court of the United States delivered a decision denying citizenship to a Dr. Macintosh and a Miss Bland, both Canadians, who would not agree to that provision in the United States naturalization law which requires all citizens of the republic to bear arms if they should be called upon to do so. As was to be expected, the case caused a good deal of controversy, not only as the decision affected the two applicants in question, but also as to what the general effect would be had the verdict of the court gone in their favor.

Writing in The Yale Review, Charles P. Howland and Richard W. Hale contend that in all probability the main objection to such views as those of Dr. Macintosh and Miss Bland rests in the fear that should those views be indulged, many cowards and slackers would escape the call of duty when the country is in danger, sheltering themselves behind a fraudulent profession of religious or conscientious scruple against the taking of human life.

The facts of experience, it is pointed out, are the best answer to these fears. Effective touchstones of sincerity on the part of "conscientious objectors" have been discovered and used. "During the recent war," the two writers quote the statement of United States Assistant Secretary of War Keppel of June 13, 1919, "the problem arose only in England and the United States. We are informed that Germany promptly shot the men who professed conscientious scruples against warfare. In France, through long compulsory service, men had previously made their mental adjustments to the situation." The tests then were needed during the World War only in England and the United States.

"In England the conscientious objectors were rigorously tested," we read further, "and out of five thousand cases less than one hundred were rejected for insincerity. The genuine cases were not confined to Quakers or to pacifist sects, but were distributed through all denominations." To prove this the following percentages are given:

Friends	14
Congregationalists	12.25
Agnostics and atheists	12
Church of England	7.50
Wesleyans	7.50
Unitarians	6.50
Jews	6
Catholics	3
Primitive Methodists	3.75
Scattering	72.50
	27.50

In the United States the total of those professing objections was smaller. Under rules allowing exemption from military service in a combatant capacity because of religious beliefs, the ratio of men professing conscientious objections in the camps to the total inductions was as 3,989 to 2,810,296, or .0014 per cent. The number of those court-martialed and punished was 504, a ratio to the total inductions of .000179.

In consequence of the decision of the Supreme Court, of course, applicants for citizenship, when they take the oath, must have in mind that they are promising to do personal combat service if called upon to do so in any war which Congress may declare. As many Quakers and other persons of similar views are unwilling to take human life, and are scrupulous as to the effect of their solemn engagements, the effect of this decision, the writers in The Yale Review conclude, is to bar such applicants from American citizenship.

A WEIRD OUTLOOK

THE LATEST FORECAST OF THE practical use of television, when it is really ready for general consumption, casts rather a gloomy and disturbing atmosphere over the entire prospect. It is a picture of trade labels, of coffee cans, cereal boxes and window cards being forced upon our innocent eyes in the midst of our eagerness to enjoy some attractive song and dance act. The picture is drawn by Orrin E. Dunlap Jr., radio editor of The New York Times, in his new book, "Radio in Advertising."

Dunlap goes into quite a detailed explanation of how this will be done.

"A new model automobile revolving on a turntable before a television," he suggests. "A silver polish... visually demonstrated in a more effective way than mere words can describe it."

Then he goes into instructive detail. "Hold the tarnished silver knife," he says, "in front of the electric eyes. Then use the magic polish and let the housewives of the nation see at a glance how bright and new the old piece of cutlery looks after the magic remedy has been applied."

There must have been a snicker on Dunlap's face when he wrote this, but what many idealists fear is that the advertisers are going to take him seriously. He goes on:

"Television is likely to bring a revival of advertising characters, and to give those who have been confined to cartoons greater scope and renewed life."

So, if the advertisers take the hint, those inevitable scenes of pathos in our musical comedies will become, in television, such affairs as that of the father of our country smacking his lips over a cup of coffee, or a bonneted Dutch woman chasing a speck of dirt, or a young man turning his head away from his dancing companion.

Can there be anything more pathetic than this, to offset a rollicking comedy?

NOT THE PREMIER'S VIEWS

THE OTHER DAY WHEN MR. J. T. Hackett, member for Stanstead, Quebec, delivered himself in the House of Commons of another outburst against his pet aversion, the Canadian National Railways, Premier Bennett took occasion to declare that Mr. Hackett was speaking for himself and that his views were not those of the government. Mr. Bennett was very definite on this point, as the following extracts from his speech as reported in the Debates of the House of Commons show:

"The observations of the honorable member for Stanstead (Mr. Hackett) to which the House listened this afternoon reflect only his own personal views, as far as this government is concerned." (House of Commons Debates, July 21, page 4292.)

"If the honorable member for Stanstead expressed his personal views, I can only say that he has not expressed the views of the government, or those I hold personally. For instance, the board of directors may be all that they say they are. For my part, I think they are a reasonable cross-section of the Dominion and that, taking them man for man, they represent the whole of Canada." (Debates of the House of Commons, July 21, page 4293.)

Mr. Hackett, from whose views Mr. Bennett thus dissented, frankly admits that he is opposed to public ownership of railroads. As there is no other company which is likely to acquire the national system, the plain implication of his remarks is that he wants it handed over to the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the creation of a vast private transportation monopoly—with the public holding the bag. Mr. Bennett's declaration that he does not share Mr. Hackett's views is reassuring. It is in accord with the attitude of an overwhelming majority of the Canadian people.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE CAUSE OF WAR

The Boston Christian Science Monitor

War is, in a large sense, a social economic problem. It is out of distress, unemployment, upheaval and despair that wars are made. Millions of men and women out of work, countries plunged into the deepest difficulties, ruined tradesmen and impoverished farmers are the raw materials of conflict. The profound discontent of poverty, with all its harmful potentialities, is not only a result but a cause of strife.

BRITAIN'S GREAT FOREIGN MINISTER

The Regina Leader-Post

Mr. Henderson is a great asset to the Labor Government. This man, solid and substantial in bodily figure, with the heavy reflective features, was once a molder and later a trades union official. His career is a romance. He learned his lesson in public speaking where so many English statesmen of the nonconformist type have learned theirs, in the lay pulpit as a Wesleyan local preacher. He was a respected and popular lay preacher before he turned to politics, and his career is an inspiration to the young who follow after him. It is a demonstration of what courage, character and industry can achieve.

THE RAILWAY PROBLEM

The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

The special committee of Parliament appointed to study the position of the Canadian National Railway has unanimously approved the suggestion made by Henry Thornton that a commission should be appointed to investigate the entire transportation problem of the country. The value of such a commission, of course, will depend on their instructions, on the field which they are asked to study and on their recognition of the larger problem of adjusting the transportation systems to meet new conditions and new competition. If such a commission devotes its attention merely to questions of economy in management, elimination of the costs of competition, value of extensions of the present systems, and similar matters, it might serve a moderately useful purpose. But if it recognizes that the railways are faced to face with problems much larger than these, are confronted with a set of conditions changing so rapidly that much of the service hitherto supplied so excellently is likely to be superseded by new forms of transportation, and devotes its energies to studying methods of adjusting the present systems to the new circumstances, then it may well accomplish a great work of benefit to everyone in the Dominion. The railways themselves have gone far in solving their difficulties of operation. They have made notable economies and show a willingness to co-operate which no doubt will in time overcome many of their difficulties, but the major problems lie outside their own sphere, particularly the question of regulating other forms of transportation.

A THOUGHT

For this ye know, that no unclean persons, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the Kingdom of Christ and of God.—Ephesians v. 5. God will put up with a great many things in the human heart, but there is one thing that He will not put up with in it—a second place. He who offers God a second place, offers Him no place.—Ruskin.

Loose Ends

How to start the day's work all wrong—with a practical demonstration thereof—something about the hoary subject of campaign funds—and about nations.

By H. B. W.

THE VERY WORST WAY to start a day's work, in case you want to know, is the way I have started mine to-day. I can prove it, as you shall see. I can even give you the exact recipe for it so you can make no mistake. That is to say, rise early, well before 7, with a noble resolve to get under way before breakfast. Thrust your head out of the window and sniff the cool, sweet morning air of a day which is going to be hot later on. Feel yourself torn between your type-writer and the garden and, of course, yield to the garden's temptation. Resolve to go outside for just five minutes to get a breath of the cool, sweet morning air.

HAVING THUS YIELDED to temptation, stroll down to a yellow transparent apple tree, now laden with its golden treasures. There, by a happy chance (if you have a well-managed garden) will be a stepladder which instinctively and without conscious intent you will climb up, standing on its uppermost step, you will search among the apples for one which is just reaching that final flush of firm yellow perfection, that last full measure of flavor before it becomes soft and floury which, alas, is the fate of all yellow transparents. Having found one, you may take a second or third in your pocket for breakfast is still a long way off.

AND SO, MUNCHING your yellow transparent with its foaming juice very likely running down your chin and vest, if it is a really perfect specimen (the yellow transparent, I mean) go and inspect the raspberry canes, where the last raspberries are still ripening. A few handfuls of them will be sufficient, and then fix your expedition up to the pond in the rocks to see how the goldfish and the turtles are getting on this morning.

ON THE WAY there you may rescue a teddy bear with one leg, which is lying face downwards on the damp lawn, a doll or two and a number of building blocks. These should be lawnmower no good. These should be placed in the playhouse of the little girl next door, which is on the way to the pond. At the pond, if you are lucky, a turtle may be sitting on a flat rock, enjoying the first rays of sun which steal through a weeping willow tree, and four goldfish (one of which is gold, the others being combinations of black, white and red) will be busy looking for your breakfast. A piece bitten out of your seed-apple will help them. The rest you can eat yourself. And so, after a good look at the Olympics over the brow of the hill, a deep breath of the morning air and a roamed from the late yellow climber, you tear yourself away and come indoors to commence the heavy labor of enlightening the public. And by this time the job of enlightening the public and even the public itself and everything else seems unimportant compared with your yellow transparents, your raspberries and your goldfish. So far as useful work is concerned, the day is completely ruined. However.

THE VANCOUVER PROVINCE, which has commendably strong views on campaign funds, has revived this matter by discussing the difference between honest funds and dishonest ones. If it comes to the conclusion that there is nothing wrong with campaign funds contributed openly by men anxious to support a political party and it suggests that political parties should be financed in this way by their adherents. There is a pious proposal for you! But I should be sorry for any political party which had to depend on public contributions to fill its coffers and make campaigning possible at all. I mean to say, can't you just imagine the public coming forward and contributing the money necessary for these purposes, with no hope of return but honest government? Can you imagine the average man spending his own money simply to vindicate his principle as the polls? The picture of the Canadian people rushing to the nearest Conservative or Liberal Association headquarters to contribute their share is a picture no camera will ever record. By the same reasoning, can you imagine any large company contributing to campaign funds in an excess of patriotism and without hope of any return but the welfare of the nation.

BUT IN THESE MATTERS, as in most, there is a fine poetic justice. The public refuses to contribute directly, but it does not imagine that it escapes payment. It has to pay, not only every cent contributed by the larger contributors, but it has to pay it twice and more than twice. It has to pay it to the big contributors who pass it along in the form of charges for their services. Then it has to pay, in the form of taxes, for any concessions granted to these contributors in return for their campaign funds. And thirdly, it has to pay the profits, commissions, discounts and carrying charges which, in the case of campaign funds, are peculiarly heavy. It would be much cheaper for the public to pay directly, but I don't expect that to happen. It is human nature to save $1 now even if it costs you $10 later on.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT says it is powerless to prevent unemployed citizens of other provinces from coming to British Columbia to seek work or relief here, and it seems to consider this an extraordinary and lamentable weakness in provincial authority. It seems to think that every province should have the right to keep destitute neighbors from entering the territory, so that it could save the cost of feeding them. This is an interesting conception of nationhood and resembles the antique notion, still held in some high places, that British Columbia should never have become part of the Canadian nation at all. For obviously the first and fundamental requirement of a nation is that its citizens shall have the right to go where they please in it. If they are not allowed to do so, if they can be stopped at internal boundaries, like the line between Alberta and British Columbia, then the nation in fact, has ceased to exist. It has become a group of little nations.

BURN KIRK'S COAL

IF THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT ever passed a law permitting any province to bar citizens of any other, that would be the end of Confederation in fact, if not in law. It is hard luck on the British Columbia finance department when it has to pay for the maintenance of a lot of outsiders, but I don't see what it can do about it. Whatever it may think about the matter, a man is a citizen of Canada first and of British Columbia afterwards; but as I said the other day, there are too many men, some in high office, who regard themselves as British Columbians first and Canadians afterwards, while some even consider themselves Victorians first and British Columbians next, and Canadians a long way after that. Their ideas, carried to a logical conclusion, would prevent people from moving from any city to another if they were destitute, and in the end we should have a loose confederacy of city states, much like ancient Greece. Fortunately there are still men in office who have a rough idea of what nationhood means and think it worth while even if there are occasional disadvantages. There are disadvantages to every arrangement. There are even disadvantages in being in office, and there are worse disadvantages in being governed by a government in office, and still worse disadvantages in being alive at all.

RE. SUNSHINE CAMP AT SASEENOS

To the Editor:—May I ask for space in your paper to invite the citizens of Victoria to visit this camp during the time that the underprivileged mothers and children are enjoying themselves there.

We have, to date, invested $10,000 on the premises. We bought approximately five and one-half acres of ground with 851 feet waterfront on a sandy beach. We have erected eleven cottages, one for each family, a community hall which includes the dining-room with a huge fireplace, kitchen, pantry, store-room, store food and good supplies, two bedrooms, one for the cook and one for the Camp Mother, and a cooler.

We have recently erected a nursery, and to date, have taken care of the infant babies with hot and cold water (for this we use Rock Gas so that they can get hot water immediately). We have four cottages with hot and cold water running continually, two shower baths, and four lavatories. City water is on the premises. We have a septic tank installed so that the sanitary conditions are up to A.1.

The location is one of the finest, from a scenic point of view, that could be found anywhere on the Island. It is just about half a mile from the main Seabeach Road, and is private, so there is no chance of such a home for 220 mothers and children. Last year we had 263, and this year we have had up to date 199, with a waiting list of 165 still to be taken care of. It will cost us $2,000 in order to give these families proper food, plenty of milk, green vegetables, eggs, etc. Up to date we have received approximately $1,100 and need $900 to enable us to carry on the good work, otherwise we will be forced to close up the camp before the usual date because of lack of funds.

I feel that when the citizens of Victoria know the real facts of the case, they will come forward with contributions and enable us to continue our work.

F. LANDSBERG,
Chairman Finance Committee, Social Service Sunshine Camp.

The camp was originated at Cordova Bay in 1925 with twenty-seven mothers and children. In 1926 we had eighty-two. The present camp was opened in 1929 and we were able to take care of a holiday at Seabeach, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Percival.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. James, Jasmine Avenue, have had as guests their daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. P. James of Seattle, and Mrs. Stewart and daughter, Miss Eva Jones, Carey Road, is spending a holiday at Seabeach, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Percival.

There are no strings to the big "racket" Stewart's great Cash Shoe Sale is making. Every pair of shoes has been radically reduced. See you Saturday morning.

SOUP PRESIDENT LEAVES LARGEST LIFE INSURANCE

$4,690,000 Paid on Dorrance's Policy; $275,000 on Lon Chaney

Chicago, July 31.—The largest life insurance death claim paid in 1930 was to the estate of John T. Dorrance, Camden and Cinnaminson, N.J., which totaled $4,690,000. Mr. Dorrance was president and founder of the Campbell Soup Company and left an estate of $114,850,723, according to the life insurance returns for Canada and the United States compiled by the National Underwriter.

Woolworth Man Has $1,590,000
J. Frank Nutting of New York left $1,590,000 in life insurance, which was the second largest death claim in 1930. Mr. Nutting was vice-president of F. W. Woolworth and Company.

The third largest death claim paid in 1930 was on the life of V. E. Macy, philanthropist, of New York and California, who carried $1,507,800.

Thomas B. Slick, independent oil operator of Yonkers, N.Y., and Oklahoma City, left the next largest amount of life insurance, $1,500,000 followed by Harry Busick of Baltimore with $1,183,000. Mr. Busick was president of a large Baltimore hotel company and was drowned while fishing.

RAILWAY SUPPLY MAN LEAVES $1,000,000
William H. Miner of Chicago and Chaney, N.Y., left an insurance estate of $1,142,730 and was next in large payments. Mr. Miner was prominent in Chicago as a railway supply manufacturer and capitalist.

The last claim over $1,000,000 was that of $1,097,729 carried by Harry E. Black of Lloyd Harbor, N.Y. Mr. Black was chairman of the board of George A. Fuller Company, large construction firm, and the United States Realty and Improvement Corporation, which operated the Plaza Hotel of New York.

STRAUS LEAVES $786,500
George W. Strauss of St. Louis and New York left the next largest amount of insurance, which was $608,000. Mr. Strauss was president of the Huttig Sash and Door Company, St. Louis.

Simon W. Straus, New York financier, who left $786,500 in life insurance, was the next largest death claim. Mr. Straus was chairman of the board of W. W. Straus and Company.

LON CHANEY LEAVES $275,000

Some of the other prominent people who died in 1930 leaving large amounts of life insurance were William D. Baldwin, chairman of the Board of Otis Elevator Company, who left $348,780; R. H. Brigham, president of the North American Car Company, $307,500; Virgil L. Highland, Clarkburg, W. Va., publisher and Republican national committee man, $287,595, and Lon Chaney, motion picture actor, $275,000.

LARGE CLAIMS ON WOMEN

There were five large insurance claims paid on lives of women who died in 1930. Elizabeth M. Ashforth of New York, left $409,411; Mrs. Joel C. Clure, wife of a prominent Cincinnati attorney, left $200,000; Catherine T. Shanley of Newark, left $40,198; Rose Hoffman of Washington, $32,222, and Lena Pepperdine, Los Angeles, $30,000.

It is interesting to compare the vast sum paid to life insurance beneficiaries in 1930 with the wages paid by the industries which are used as indices by economists in forecasting business conditions.

Life insurance payments equaled 28 per cent of the $9,419,000 total paid by the principal manufacturing industries in the United States last year. The railroad and iron and steel industry are among the foremost businesses in this country. Life insurance payments of $2,642,000 in 1930 were greater than the $2,500,000,000 of wages paid railway employees and nearly $1,500,000 more than the $1,171,700,000 paid in steel workers in 1930. Food manufacturers paid $790,250,000 in wages in 1930; the textile industry, $1,417,493,000, and manufacturers of transportation equipment, $656,845,000 in 1930. Furthermore, the total industrial wages in the United States last year were 5.3 per cent lower than in 1929 while the life insurance payments were 20 per cent greater.

Life insurance payments exceeded the $2,428,180,220 in internal revenue collected by the Federal Government in its last fiscal year.

Naturally a great deal of attention has been paid to banks that suspended operations in the United States in 1930. But the life insurance payments are three times greater than the $894,715,000 deposited in these banks. The life insurance payments amounted to more than half of the money in circulation in the United States in 1930, which was between $4,500,000,000 and $5,000,000,000. The public debt of the United States Government of $16,000,000,000 is looked upon with much concern but the per capita debt is only $132 while the life insurance payments per capita totaled $20 or about a sixth of the public debt.

JOHN WESLEY'S ADVICE ON LOVE

Reformer's Letter of 1769 Sold at Auction in London Yesterday

London, July 31 (by Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—"If there is reason to believe that person is in love with you it is not advisable to keep at a distance from him." John Wesley, great religious reformer and founder of Methodism, wrote the above advice in 1769 to Lady Maxwell of Edinburgh, who had evidently asked his counsel on the conduct of a love affair. The original of the letter sold yesterday at Sotheby's for £180. "From all evil, whether in design or action, I must wholly acquit you," Wesley told the Edinburgh lady in his letter.

SECOND SIAMESE TWIN IS DEAD

Baltimore Baby Dies After Separation Operation; Sister Predeceased Her

Baltimore, Md., July 31.—Death of the second "Siamese Twin" yesterday brought an end to one of Baltimore's most strange medical cases. Dorothy Foster, surviving one of the conjoined pair, died at the Mercy Hospital where she and her sister Mary were born July 7, to Mrs. Alberta Foster. Mary died last week. Death came to both the children when they were reported to be gaining strength for a second operation, planned by physicians to restore them to normalcy after their strange birth. When born, Mary and Dorothy were joined by a common intestinal tract. It was severed and the baby girls parted by one of the few such operations known to medical science. They were normal, 4 1/2 pound children, except for the common intestinal tract, and the second operation had been planned to place the tract in its proper position in each. The mother was reported in splendid condition. The conjoined twins were her first children.

People in some parts of Scotland believe that the finding of a four-leaf clover denotes bad instead of good luck.

WOMEN MOST CANCER VICTIMS

Swiss Specialist Blames Modern Civilization For Disease Prevalence

Canadian Press
Montreal, July 31.—Cancer is like a jig-saw puzzle, but its pieces—cellular, colloidal nuclear and protoplasmic complexes—baffle any sane alignment, according to Dr. Fritz Ludwig, Swiss-German cancer research expert and specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

Head of a private clinic in Berne, Switzerland, and engaged in research work on cancerous diseases of women with Dr. V. Reis; Dr. Ludwig is on a tour of Canada and the United States, investigating and gathering data for a paper on the effects of modern civilization on female health.

"It is woman—whose mind baffles philosophers and whose bodily ills challenge medical science—that suffers most from cancer," Dr. Ludwig stressed in an interview here recently.

"And seeing that the worth of any civilization is measured by the treatment it accords the mothers of the race in time of physical stress, it is up to medical science to alleviate the awful suffering that women the world over endure as a result of cancer."

Modern civilization has created havoc, he found. Crowded cities, thunderous noise, close living quarters, faulty eating and digestion, lack of fresh air and sunshine, smoking, drinking, over-tension in violent sports—these were factors which increased women's diseases.

"The primitive woman was a healthy creature," the doctor declared. "She suffered from few ills. But our modern women? Why, they are physical and nervous wrecks. So hundreds are present-living conditions that childbirth, once a simple thing for the primitive woman, brings on the most serious complications for some modern women."

As an authority of gynecology, Dr. Ludwig was alive to the value of the latest discoveries in regard to hormones, those substances which, secreted from the glands, pass into the blood and cause other glands to secrete. "We have made the most intricate investigations into the reaction of the varied hormones on a woman's constitution," he said. "Without a doubt, the constant secretion of hormones has a great deal to do with the emotional and physical well-being of women. Hormones have opened up a great and vast field linked with gynecological medicine."

Modern medicine, the doctor concluded, was waging an uphill fight in many cases.

"Why does humanity tolerate living conditions which invariably shorten life and endow man with the most fatal of maladies?" he wondered. "Men live like fools, in cases, and women, too, and then expect medicine to cure them on the spot."

A third woman who was with them also was injured, but none of them badly hurt. One of the victims lost several teeth.

The Prince's car, driven by a chauffeur, was turning out of a driveway of the Sunningdale Golf Club yesterday afternoon when the collision occurred. The chauffeur immediately stopped and the Prince got out and hurried to give assistance. He summoned another automobile, in which the women were taken to a hospital. A few hours later he inquired about them at the hospital.

A large section of the paneling on the Prince's car, alongside where he was sitting, was ripped away.

PRINCE'S CAR IN COLLISION

London, July 31.—The Misses Daphne and Beryl Riggs, actresses, were undergoing hospital treatment to-day for injuries received when an automobile in which they were riding collided yesterday with the car of the Prince of Wales, who escaped unharm.

A third woman who was with them also was injured, but none of them badly hurt. One of the victims lost several teeth.

The Prince's car, driven by a chauffeur, was turning out of a driveway of the Sunningdale Golf Club yesterday afternoon when the collision occurred. The chauffeur immediately stopped and the Prince got out and hurried to give assistance. He summoned another automobile, in which the women were taken to a hospital. Mrs. Eidred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

BABY WITH CHRONICALLY POOR APPETITE NEEDS ADJUSTED DIET

The appetiteless child is a common phenomenon in hot weather, for every other letter mentions how reluctantly children eat their regular portions. Adults should be intuitive enough to know by their own feelings that it is difficult to enjoy food when the temperature is high. Take this into consideration. A worried mother writes me about a baby with a chronically poor appetite.

"My baby is seven months old and weighs seventeen and one-half pounds, having weighed eight at birth. She has had a very poor appetite since birth. Three ounces of milk fill her up, and two tablespoons of cream of wheat once a day is all I can get her to take. I prepare the same formula every day, twenty-five ounces of milk, ten of water and three tablespoons of dextrin-maltose, but she wastes half of that."

"She is pleasant and happy, always ready to play, never seems to be very hungry, is very active, sits alone and pulls herself up in her bed. I have had three other children but never had any of them refuse milk. I didn't think there were such babies. I am afraid she won't grow strong."

ADJUST FORMULA

Nine pounds in seven months is not the average gain, but the baby is showing as much strength as most babies of her age, despite her poor appetite. It is not possible to tell why she never wants to eat, but certainly it is the height of folly to keep on preparing the same formula and letting her waste half of it. Why not leave out the water, a little at a time, and at least give the child the benefit of all milk when she does accept it? Give three or four ounces of whole, boiled milk at a feeding and omit the water and sugar. Boiling the milk makes it easy to digest. Then give water between meals. Give one tablespoon of cereal with each feeding instead of two at a time.

STIMULANTS FOR APPETITE
Feed regularly every four hours, so that the child will have the best appetite for what you are serving. Give from one to two ounces of orange juice once daily as this is an essential increase the appetite. Yeast or vitamin are both vitamin B products in the diet and may do something to which have a tendency to create an appetite, and it might be wise to try one of the other. You may buy brewer's yeast at a drugist's of which you could give one teaspoonful, three times a day. Vitavase could be used in the same proportions as your present maltose in the milk.

It would be eminently wise and desirable to have the baby given a thorough physical examination to rule out any other factors which might be affecting the appetite. It may be that despite the small amount of milk at each feeding, she is being fed so often that she does get more than you imagine.

Our leaflet on "Feeding From Six Weeks to One Year," covers this in detail and you are welcome to it. Please send the necessary self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

ROYAL BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM

"Use of gasoline in a house is worse than having a stack of dynamite around," Fire Chief Dutton stated. "Gasoline for domestic cleaning purposes must be stopped."

Edmonton, July 31.—The first prosecution for using gasoline to clean clothing was made in city police court recently when a woman was charged with carelessness in causing a fire. The crown alleged that the woman, who had one room in the building, was cleaning clothing with gasoline when fumes reached an open flame. An explosion followed and she was burned about the arms and it was necessary to rescue a small child from an upper room by use of a ladder. The building was damaged. The tenant lost $500 and spent two weeks in hospital.

ARION CONCERT TO AID V.O.N.

Open-air Concert at Parliament Buildings Next Wednesday Evening

Among the many outdoor attractions which summer brings in its train is the annual alfresco concert of the Arion Club, held each year in the grounds of the Parliament Buildings. Next Wednesday evening has been set aside for the affair, and, in accordance with the club's traditional custom, a collection will be taken up, the Victorian Order of Nurses to receive the proceeds.

From the steps of the Parliament Buildings, beginning at 8.15 o'clock, the choir, under Frank J. Behl's direction, will give a programme including the following popular numbers chosen from the club repertoire: "Viking Song," "Three Doughty Men,"

"Secret Love," "Glorious Forever" (Schumann's march), "The Who Truists in Ladies Fair," the two request numbers, "Prayer of Thanksgiving" and "Archers' Marching Song," "Italian Salvo," "Hey, Robin" (a new number), "Happiest Land" and "Arion Waltz." Mrs. Arthur Dowell, soprano, will be the soloist, and Mrs. C. C. Wain will be at the piano.

J.B.A.A. FLANNEL DANCE SATURDAY

The carmen of the James Bay Athletic Association, encouraged by the success of their recent flannel dance, will hold another of the series at the clubhouse at the Gorge to-morrow evening, commencing at 9 o'clock. The dance committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. T. D. Roberts, is working hard for the function and it is hoped that their efforts will be rewarded.

HON. R. R. BRUCE SAYS FAREWELL

Cables Message to Premier From England From Self and Nieces

Farewell greetings to the people of British Columbia were cabled by Hon. Randolph R. Bruce, retiring Lieutenant-Governor yesterday. The message, received by Premier Tolmie, was couched in the following terms: "I take this opportunity at the close of my tenure of office to express to you, and through you to the people of British Columbia, my heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses and courtesies extended to my nieces and myself. Our stay at Government House will ever be a pleasant memory. My nieces join me in wishing you and the province renewed prosperity."

OZONE PREVENTS MOLDY BERRIES

Markets Branch Reports Notable Success of New Treatment

Reporting that ozone treatment appears to be an effective preventive of mould on raspberries shipped to eastern markets, the markets branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture gives the following summary of recent successful tests carried out by the Tacoma Port Commission: "Additional confirmation of the success of the experiment of the Tacoma Port Commission in the treatment of raspberries with ozone for shipment to Far Eastern points has been received. In the second car only two berries in the entire car showed any mould. These were on the top tier of boxes. "In the first car shipped from the port the inspector reported about twenty-five spoiled berries, which was such a good showing that it was a revelation. A large dose of ozone was given the second car and the fact that the inspector, by his most rigid care, was able to find only two berries in the entire car, that showed any mould, is taken to indicate the experiment of the port has been proven of benefit and a new era of fresh fruit shipment is opening to berry growers. "As soon as the blackberry season gets well under way, it is expected to try the ozone treatment on blackberries."

DECIDE NOT TO ABOLISH COURSES YET

Esquimalt Will Keep Manual Training and Domestic Science Until Christmas

Economies Effected in Work at School; Will Ask Teachers' Pay Cut

Possibility of Esquimalt abolishing its manual training and domestic science courses, considered seriously in the school board's endeavor to cut down on expenses for the year in conjunction with the rigid retrenchment policy of the municipality, was set aside entirely until Christmas by the trustees at their meeting yesterday evening. In its place the board considered requesting the members of the school staff to accept a reduction of 10 per cent in salaries in order to make it possible to carry on the work without the dismissal of any teachers.

Should the members of the staff object, the board will be forced to combine classes and release a teacher, it was understood.

Referring to the board's meeting last week, Trustee A. Lockey, chairman of the board, told the other members it had been determined the trustees could abolish a class or join it with another whenever the board so desired. Should a course be abolished it was only necessary to give the teacher one month's notice, he informed the other members.

Moreover, the trustees could give the teacher of the course to be abolished a month's salary in lieu of notice, and could do away with the course at the commencement of the new term, he said, noting that no action need be taken until the beginning of September.

FEARED COURSES WOULD BE CLOSED

Because the action in the hilarious farce moves rapidly from room to room in the small town home, it was necessary for the entire floor plan of the house to be built into the stage.

Robert Z. Leonard directed the new David film from the Laurence E. Johnson stage hit. Sidney Blackmer has the leading masculine role.

Crystal Garden—Swimming, Dancing and Miniature Golf.

CAPITOL THEATRE

A picture that combines the timelessness of today's newspaper with the compelling drama of a Broadway hit is showing this week at the Capitol Theatre. It is Columbia's "Dirigible," in which the fine talents of Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Frank Capra are once more combined.

"Dirigible" is a graphic tale of courage, high adventure and hazardous endeavor. It carries its audience from the thrilling scene of a navy day exhibition at the government's air station at Lakehurst, N.J., to the dreary wastes of the Antarctic regions, and then to the boisterous warmth of the typical reception which New York's crowds accord a visiting celebrity.

It is filled from the first reel to the last with exploits of daring and with stirring action, but it is in the poignant, human drama that much of the charm of the picture is to be found. Ralph Graves, hero of "Submarine," "Flight" and various and sundry other Columbia successes, enacts the role of a daredevil Navy flier whose wife, torn by a torment of fear, convinces him to prevent his taking a proposed flight to the South Pole. She appeals to his friend, a touching bit of drama, his friend goes to his rescue in the navy dirigible Los Angeles and brings him back to find happiness with the woman both love.

DOMINION THEATRE

An entire home was built in sections under the roof of a giant Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stage for "It's a Wise Child." Marion Davies' new starring vehicle, which is now playing at the Dominion Theatre.

Because the action in the hilarious farce moves rapidly from room to room in the small town home, it was necessary for the entire floor plan of the house to be built into the stage.

Robert Z. Leonard directed the new David film from the Laurence E. Johnson stage hit. Sidney Blackmer has the leading masculine role.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

John Gilbert, who is starred in "Gentleman's Fate," which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, based upon an Ursula Parrott story, was born in Logan, Utah, and entered the army as a cowboy with William S. Hart, reaching stardom in "The Big Parade." His last pictures were "Redemption" and "Way for a Sailor." Lella Hyams and Anita Page have the feminine leads, and the cast includes Louis Wolheim, Maria Prevost, George Cooper, John Miljan and Frank Reicher. Mervyn Le Roy directed.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Eugenia Gilbert, charming leading lady of Hoot Gibson's exciting and amusing "Courtin' Wildcats," now at the Columbia Theatre, studied dancing for the stage when very young. Her dancing ability resulted in her first motion picture job, as the wife of a mine owner, Jerome Storm directed "Courtin' Wildcats," which is based on a Saturday Evening Post story by William Dudley Pelley.

COLISEUM THEATRE

Mickey Bennett, who plays the role of Junior Pettis, in "Father's Son," the First National picture, now at the Coliseum Theatre, was born in Victoria, B.C., January 28, 1916. His first appearance was on the stage at the age of eight months. He was in vaudeville with his father for several years.

His picture career began eight years ago. Among the films in which he has appeared are: "A Boy of the Streets," "Big Pals," "The Cohens and the Kellys," "Grabbing Grabbers," "There Ain't No Santa Claus," "It's the Old Army Game," "Tillie's Punctured Romance," "United States Gents," "The Dummy," "The Ghost Talks," "Footlights and Pools" and "Strictly Modern."

Mickey was the first child to play a lead in a talking picture. It was the lead in "The Dummy." He also played in the first Vitaphone talkie short made by Warner Bros., proving himself the child pioneer in talking pictures.

COMING TO THE COLISEUM

"Lord Richard in the Pantry," the latest British comedy production, taken from the well-known farce made famous by Cyril Maude, will contain one of the strongest comedy casts to be seen in Victoria when it plays at the Coliseum Theatre, starting tomorrow.

The title role is played by Richard Cooper, England's newest comedy star discovery, who has an extremely funny role. His brisk comedy work as Lord Richard has gained him full international honors, and his further comedies will be looked forward to with pleasure. He is supported by Dorothy Seacombe, a noted English stage player who has beauty in addition to clever stagecraft. Victorians will be pleased to learn that Frederick Volpe, who made such a hit with them as the admiral in the "Middle Watch" here recently, is another actor in this picture. Others in the cast include Leo Stittfield, who gives a great performance as a much harassed butler. He will be remembered for his excellent character work in the O'Flynn Carle Opera Company, which toured Canada three years ago. The settings and recordings in "Lord Richard in the Pantry" are considered the best yet seen and heard in a British picture.

NEW TRIAL ORDERED

Seattle, July 31.—Superior Judge William J. Steiner yesterday granted Reese D. Brown, Seattle and Spokane real estate man, a new trial of the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Ivy L. Barker, former Seattle high school teacher, who was awarded $175,000 by a jury recently.

I Owe Everyone

in Victoria an Apology—

For not having told you in every way I could what a wonderful and spectacular picture "Dirigible" is!

"Dirigible" is a tale of adventure and courage, with most of its action laid at the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N.J. or in the wastes of the Antarctic region. Hoot and Graves play the role of a daredevil Navy flier whose wife, torn by a torment of fear, convinces him to prevent his taking a proposed flight to the South Pole. She appeals to his friend, a touching bit of drama, his friend goes to his rescue in the navy dirigible Los Angeles and brings him back to find happiness with the woman both love.

I didn't realize, until I saw this picture before a tremendous audience yesterday, how terrific and powerful the dramatic scenes had become. I didn't know that the tender, sweet and emotional love scenes could bring tears so quickly to an audience's eye. I could not imagine that the audience was more capable than I of perceiving the trend of humor that was itself throughout the picture. If I could have known these things, could have foreseen the picture, I would have shown it to the houseful of Victoria about its merits. I didn't—and in consequence I apologize for allowing a picture of this type—coming direct from the States without being heralded as the greatest and most dramatic spectacle since "Hell's Angels."

"Dirigible," with Jack Holt and Ralph Graves, is the type of picture that the world loves. I urge you to see it now. I guarantee it!

NEWS IN BRIEF

Unemployed registered in Saanich up to noon today totaled 348, inclusive of three transients and three women.

Mar Kee, Chinese, 1615 Government Street, sustained minor injuries when knocked down by an automobile on Government Street, near the Pekin Cafe, yesterday evening.

Permit for construction of a four-room house at 2537 Vancouver Street, to cost $2,250, was taken out at the City Hall yesterday by D. F. Donaldson, Ladysmith Street.

Toy, Chinese, was fined $300 or three months when convicted in City Police Court this morning of unlawfully selling liquor. Marie Lundquist, facing a similar charge, was remanded for one week.

William Patterson, war veteran reported missing to police, returned to Victoria yesterday from Nanaimo, it was learned. His sister, Mrs. G. C. Ford, 1226 North Park Street, had been alarmed by his disappearance, as he did not tell her he was leaving the city.

The picnic committee of the Veterans of France will hold a meeting in their club rooms Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Through the courtesy of Fred Remberton "Rosebank" will be available for the picnic, which is to be held on August 16.

Dr. T. Oliver of Galashiels, Scotland, who is visiting Canada in the interests of the Scottish woolen trade, will arrive in Victoria on Wednesday next. He wishes to meet Victorians who are interested in wool production. Dr. Oliver will stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Oliver, 313 Edward Street, during his visit here.

Albert Grice was fined $15 when convicted in Saanich Police Court yesterday afternoon of assaulting Austin Cooper, operator of the Gorge launch. The alleged offence occurred aboard the launch on July 18 when, according to Mr. Cooper's testimony, Grice struck him on the side and knocked him out after refusing to leave the launch on Mr. Cooper's orders.

Victoria Aerle No. 12, F.O.E., will hold its annual picnic Sunday at Beaver Lake. Buses will leave the aerle, 1319 Government Street, at 10 o'clock in the morning. A fine programme of sports and entertainment has been arranged under the direction of Dr. H. Clarke, chairman of the picnic committee. A full attendance of members and their families is requested.

The Provincial Public Works Department is making road surveys east of Fraser River on the south bank of the river to the possibility of constructing a new highway between Vancouver and Hope, to relieve traffic along the present highway. If the highway is constructed it will form a unit of the projected programme of unemployment relief works.

Mayor G. A. B. Hall of Nanaimo, W. B. Mitchell, president of the Board of Trade, and other officials of the Island and mining town yesterday interviewed the unemployment committee of the provincial cabinet to lay before it proposals for relief work in the district. Hon. W. A. McKenzie, chairman, promised careful consideration of the delegation's representations for work on provincial thoroughfares adjacent to the city of Nanaimo.

A large wheel, 16 feet in diameter and constructed of British Columbia cedar, will be displayed in the Manufacturers' Building at the Provincial Exhibition by the home products group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. On the rim of the wheel will be posted cards boasting British Columbia products. The wheel will be run by a machine which stops at ten-second intervals, thus giving the spectator a chance to read the cards. Everything in connection with the design, construction, display and adornment of the wheel has been done voluntarily by members of the home products group and all materials used are British Columbia made.

The Tabernular Veterans' section of the Canadian Legion yesterday evening decided to submit to the Dominion convention, to be held at Niagara Falls next month, resolutions asking for the following changes in pension regulations: Immediate establishment of permanent pensions for all disabled veterans who served in an actual campaign; acceptance as final of appeals unanimously decided in favor of the appellants by the Pension Tribunal; and the right of pensioners to appeal against the decision of the Board of Pension Commissioners in matters of pension assessment.

FINANCES OF OAK BAY ARE SATISFACTORY

Receipts Greater and Tax Payments Keep Up, Council Is Advised By Treasurer

Unemployment in Municipality Is Talked About; May Get Foreshore Rights

Oak Bay's finances are in good shape generally, receipts are greater, and payment of taxes well maintained, it was shown in the treasurer's report for the first half of this year, submitted to the Oak Bay Council at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon. The Reeve and councillors expressed themselves as pleased with the report, and it was duly received and filed. It showed in minute detail the amount of each receipt and payment, how it compared to the estimated figures and a comparison with the receipts and payments of 1930 and 1929.

Receipts for the six-month period covered by the report, ending June 30, 1931, an increase of $21,588. This is partly accounted for by the transfer of the sinking fund surplus and the government grants for relief works. Estimated receipts for the entire year are $436,379. Tax receipts for the first half of the year were $172,612, compared with $171,187 last year. The estimated tax receipts for the entire year are $193,430. Payments for the six-month period ending June 30 were $164,361, which is $14,000 higher than in 1930. The cash balance at this time is $92,662, compared with $120,343 at this time last year. One of the largest sundry cash expenditures was $1,118 for surface drainage.

Already $4.28 per cent of this year's taxes have been paid compared with 83.25 per cent in 1930 and 84.8 per cent in 1929.

Oak Bay is making arrangements to control the foreshore rights right around the water boundary of the municipality extending from Poul Bay to Cadboro Bay. If the deal goes through Oak Bay will have control of the beaches from low to high water mark. There are about five miles altogether of waterfront in the municipality.

While Oak Bay's unemployment situation is not a serious one, the problem is rather difficult as regards registration, the council was advised yesterday by Clerk R. F. Blandy. There are certain phrases in the application forms that are rather confusing, Mr. Blandy said. He had had several cases where it was difficult to register the applicants. The council authorized Mr. Blandy to interview the government committee on unemployment about the matters about which he is in doubt. There are, so far, only eighteen unemployed registered in Oak Bay. Of these five are over sixty years of age, one has been out of work for six years. Only six of the eighteen are taxpayers.

JANE SHARP IS JUNIOR CHAMP

Defeats Caroline Deacon, North Vancouver, in Girls' Canadian Tennis Final

Vancouver, B.C., July 31.—Jane Sharp, Pasadena, Cal., to-day won the Junior Girls' tennis championship when she defeated Caroline Deacon, North Vancouver, in the 1931 final on the courts of the Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club. Miss Sharp won easily in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Sharp, California and Washington State champion, had too much experience for the Canadian final. The latter hit the ball hard and covered a lot of court, but lost control. On the other hand Miss Sharp placed the ball perfectly and had her opponent continually on the run.

The match decided the first of the 1931 Canadian championships which are being played here. Semi-finals in other major events are scheduled for to-day with finals to-morrow.

WINNING PAIR BEATEN
The last of the mixed doubles quarter-finals was played to-day when W. Gyles and Mrs. Gordon Pitt, Winnipeg, were eliminated by Lloyd Nordstrom, Seattle, and Mrs. Dot Perow, San Francisco. The scores were 6-1, 6-0.

Professor John Ferguson of the department of physiology at the University of Alberta, has arrived at the Empress Hotel from Edmonton. Professor Ferguson said this was one of his annual visits to the Coast, during which he carries on extra-mural research work in physiology, biochemistry and allied studies. He said he found the mild, moist climate on this Coast conducive to the development of a stable mentally-motivated habit of human life, which will possibly be a more permanent type than the restless and nervous types produced by more rigorous climates. The professor said he was not taking up any marine physiology work at any of the marine biology stations on the Coast during this visit.

Vancouver Walkie To End To-morrow

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 31.—Promoters of the Walkathon at the Arena have reached an understanding with city officials that the contest will close Saturday at 11:33 p.m.

This will be in no way prejudicial action of the city in summoning promoters each day the walkathon continued after July 24—the time set by city by-law some time ago—Mr. Williams declared.

DESPERADO GOT JUDGE'S BOAT AS WELL AS SHERIFF'S

Escaped Convict, Captured at San Juan, Bound Over to U.S. Federal Court

Besides going up to the Deep Cove summer home of Sheriff Goggin and boldly chugging off with his boat, Giles F. Martin also helped himself to the pleasure boat of Judge J. Charles McIntosh, which he took from the judge's summer home on Saanich Island.

This was learned in the further unravelling of the mystery of the Coast boat thieves' market, brought to a close yesterday by the arrest of the raid on a San Juan Island cave by B.C. Police under Acting-Inspector Robert Owens and the arrest there of the run-ripper and escaped convict by U.S. Sheriff Doyle of Friday Harbor. The judge's boat along with the Victoria sheriff's craft went to San Juan Island with all the other boats which have disappeared from along the inner coast during the last year or so and have gone through the thieves' market there with its sales outlet through Anacortes and other mainland points. Boats of eight Victorians have already been identified.

Arraigned before United States Commissioner James Hammack at Mount Vernon, Wash., late yesterday, Martin was bound over to the Federal Court on a smuggling charge. He was in charge of Customs Officer Morris of Seattle. The Customs laid claim to the prisoner for smuggling into United States the stolen Canadian boats. Other United States government officers are also seeking for the run-ripper. The judge's boat was found in the warehouse of the cannery of J. H. Todd and Son at Esquimalt where they were intercepted by the acting provincial police inspector, who played the chief part in bringing about the final capture of Martin at San Juan. The police said when Owens jumped to the boat, Martin and Jerry Aust were also present. By finishing second, the smuggler escaped. By finishing second, the smuggler escaped. By finishing second, the smuggler escaped.

1915 CAPTURE RECALLED
In connection with the raid and capture of the desperado-convict, police here to-day recalled the battle staged on the deck of the Seattle tug Bell R. in 1915, when Martin and Jerry Aust crossed the straits on a buccannery expedition and broke into the warehouse of the cannery of J. H. Todd and Son at Esquimalt where they were intercepted by the acting provincial police inspector, who played the chief part in bringing about the final capture of Martin at San Juan. The police said when Owens jumped to the boat, Martin and Jerry Aust were also present. By finishing second, the smuggler escaped. By finishing second, the smuggler escaped. HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S SHOW OPENED TO-DAY

Hon. Wm. Atkinson Performs Ceremony: Fine Display of Fruits, Flowers, Vegetables

The eighth annual Summer Show of the Victoria Horticultural Society was officially opened at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium this afternoon by Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture.

The public will be able to view the exhibits until to-morrow evening. Under the direction of Dr. A. G. Price, president of the Horticultural Society, St. Whitehead, vice-president, F. E. Boulter, secretary-treasurer, and a strong executive committee, the show this year has attracted considerable interest among Victoria gardeners and the result is an attractive display of flowers and fruits.

A very extensive prize list, consisting of cash awards and special trophies, has helped to attract competitors. The palm of the show, the Dr. Stanley Milne Challenge Cup, is awarded annually to the winner of the highest number of points in all open classes. Judging commenced this afternoon, with the following officials presiding: A. Nichols, Beauvau, and W. J. Shepard, Victoria, in the floral section; P. W. Anketell-Jones, Chemainus, and E. W. White, Department of Agriculture, in the fruit and vegetable sections.

At 9 o'clock to-morrow evening Mayor and Mrs. Herbert Anson will officiate at the prize-giving ceremony.

PEARCE AND WRIGHT WIN

Canadian Scullers Win Heats To-day in Henley Regatta at St. Catharines

Regatta Course, St. Catharines, Ont., July 31.—Bob Richards, young Winnipeg sculler, met elimination in the first heat of the champion singles at the Royal Canadian Henley rowing regatta this afternoon. Pitted against the famed Joe Wright Jr. of Toronto and Ken Myers, strong entrant from the Bachelor Barge Club of Philadelphia, Pa., the lone westerner competing at the historic meet went down to defeat.

Wright captured the heat in the good time of 8 minutes 15 1/2 seconds. Three hundred yards from the end of the Toronto race, a length in front of Myers and when the latter strayed off his course, Wright was able to slacken his pace. Richards finished a half-dozen lengths back of the Philadelphia sculler. By finishing second, Myers qualified along with Wright for the championship finals.

Bobby Pearce, Hamilton, Ont., the Olympic and British Empire champion single sculler, vanquished Billy Miller of Philadelphia, the American champion, in the second heat of the championship singles. Pearce will meet Wright and Myers in the championship final to-morrow afternoon.

Plans Under Way to Introduce Box Lacrosse to Victoria Fans

Canada's Latest Game Has Gone Over Big in Eastern Cities

Ice Hockey Is Played in Hotel in England; Proves Popular

Heavyweights Who Dived for Primo Carnera Among Missing

PLANS are now under way to introduce box lacrosse, Canada's latest game, to the sports fans of Victoria. It is hoped to stage the game in the new Horse Show Building at the Willows. This new sport which was played for the first time in the east this season, has gone over with a bang, drawing large gates at Toronto, Montreal and Cornwall. Of course the eastern promoters have had quite a simple task to put the sport over by signing up a number of the leading National Hockey League players on the teams, including that great Canadian athlete, Lionel Conacher.

However, the new sport has also been tried out in Vancouver and has drawn well, so there is no reason why it should not be a popular sport in this city. Lacrosse is a great game and played the new way it is much faster and provides the fans with action galore. The game is played with an abbreviated line-up and on a limited field space. Local interest in lacrosse has been dead ever since the days of the old Foundation Club, with the introduction of the new game, it may be revived. It's at least worth a try.

When talking hockey, a person usually visualizes a massive rink with thousands of seats built row upon row and a large smooth ice surface, but now we are told about hockey played in a hotel on a full-sized rink and with excellent, though somewhat limited seating accommodation. This is exactly what is taking place at London, England, at the Grosvenor House, Park Lane, one of the latest and most luxurious hotels in England.

The rink was originally planned for figure skating as an added attraction to the hotel, where guests and nearby residents could enjoy the popular sport. Ice hockey was not seriously considered until recently, but the ever-growing popularity of the game in England caused the management to set aside a certain amount of time for hockey. A team composed of Canadian residents in London was organized and a successful series of six matches was played. As a result of this success other rinks are being built in England.

England has been behind the continent in the development of organized ice hockey, largely due to the fact that figure skating has been the predominant sport. Glasgow, where there has been an artificial ice rink for thirty years, has a well-organized local hockey league. Hockey in Switzerland has been a prominent sport for years, and more recently the game has been seriously taken up in France, Germany, Austria, Poland, Italy, Belgium and Hungary. It is more than likely that the several of the European teams will be seen at the Olympic Games at Lake Placid, N.Y., in 1932. It is not too far to think of the day when international matches of importance will be played between teams from Canada, United States, England and the continental countries of equal importance to the present Stanley Cup and Allan Cup series.

What happens to all the Big Boy Petersen, the Elmer Hoxby and Leon Chevaliers in the fight game? Well, most of them drop out of sight after their brief hour of glory in driving to the prize money. Some of them go from town to town, taking punches for $200 a fight. One out of 100 survives; the others go back to the foundry.

This sombre reflection was occasioned when Big Boy Petersen, chosen as Carnera's first opponent in the United States, appeared in St. Louis the other day for a fight.

Big Boy was asked about Carnera. "No," he said, "I'm John L. Sullivan in disguise."

Words to the same disdaining effect were uttered recently by Leon "Bomb" Chevalier, the colored fighter Carnera met on the Coast in the bout that resulted in Carnera's being banned by the California and New York commissions. By the way, can you remember the names of five of the men Carnera fought in his triumphal tour across the United States? We can't, either.

Did you know that everybody laughed when John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, picking his all-star team last winter, put Lou Gehrig on first base; it isn't quite so laughable now. In a recent double header against the St. Louis Browns, Lou drove in nine runs, he tripled three home, batted three more in, singled another home and homered again with a man on base. As far as glory is concerned Lou hasn't had his share, because Babe Ruth batted ahead of him and grabs the public applause.

Jose Capablanca Wins Chess Match

Amsterdam, July 31.—The ten-game chess match between Jose R. Capablanca of Cuba and Dr. Max Euwe of this city, ended yesterday. The final contest resulted in a draw, the eighth of the series. The other two games were won by Capablanca. Dr. Euwe failed to win one.

Jack Wright and Rainville Picked To Contest Final

Former Conquers Laurason Driscoll, San Francisco Youth, 7-5, 6-3, 10-8; Rainville Eliminates Ryall; Walter Martin Surprises By Victory Over John Murio, San Francisco Hawaiian, 4-6, 6-3, 12-10, 7-5 After Vicious Match; Gilbert Nunns Turns Back Dranga; Marjorie Leeming in Semi-finals of Women's Singles and Meets Olive Wade, Defending Champion.

Vancouver, July 31.—The Canadian national singles tennis title at present held by G. Lytleton Rogers, Dublin, Irish Davis Cup star, will return to the Dominion to-morrow when the finals of the 1931 tournament will be played at the Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Four Canadians from east of the Rockies, all members of this year's Davis Cup team, yesterday eliminated four Pacific Coast stars, three Americans and one Canadian in the quarter-finals. To-day, in the semi-finals, Dr. Jack Wright, Montreal, seeded No. 1 in the present tournament, will play Walter Martin, Regina, seeded No. 5, while Marcel Rainville, Montreal, seeded No. 2, will clash with Gilbert Nunns, seeded No. 4. Wright and Rainville, regular playing members of the Davis Cup squad, are favored to win to-day's matches against the cup team alternatives, Nunns and Martin.

Bylona Wins Race On Hamilton Track To Return $284.40

Hamilton, Ont., July 31.—Long-odds speculators were rewarded yesterday when G. Sharples's Bylona headed the two-year-old field in the five and one-half furlong first race and returned $285.40 on a $2 winning ticket on Hamilton race track. It was the longest price paid on the Canadian circuit this season. Bylona paid $130 for place, and $26.35 for show. J. P. White's Koch, a three-year-old, was only a neck behind Bylona while Thunderspeed took show position.

WRIGHT WINS QUARTER-MILE RACE EASILY

Toronto Souler Victor in Feature Event at Canadian Henley Yesterday

Gilmore, Philadelphia, Second; Bob Pearce, Diamond Sculls Winner, Withdraws

Toronto, July 31.—Overcoming the strong threat of V. Wehmer, Detroit, Joe Wright, bearing the colors of Toronto Argonauts, yesterday won the quarter-mile singles event, only senior race on the opening day of the programme of the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta.

The retirement of Bob Pearce, of Hamilton Leanders, 1931 winner of the Diamond Sculls, dived the race of some of its interest, but the remaining contenders made it a keen struggle. Pearce announced his withdrawal yesterday, declaring that he wished to save himself for the senior singles championship.

Disqualification of the Detroit Rowing Club crew in the 140-pound junior eight marked the day's results. The judges ruled them out of the contest, which they had won by a handy margin, when it was learned three of the crew had rowed in a senior event a year ago.

Toronto Dons led the competing clubs from centres in the United States and Canada at the close of the first day's events.

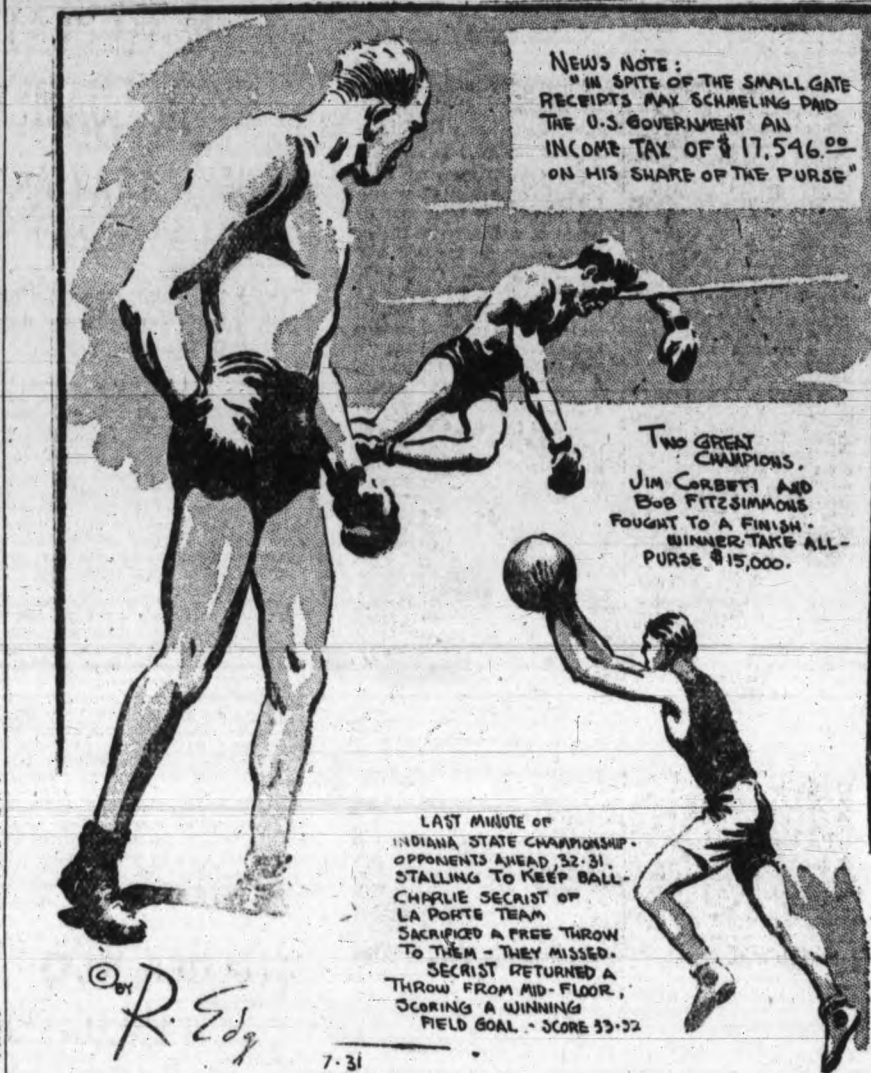

WRIGHT WINS EASILY
Six scullers of international fame lined up for the senior quarter-mile singles. Joe Wright, who won the Diamond Sculls in 1929, outdistanced Garrett Gilmore, Philadelphia, who finished second, and forged into undisputed leadership with powerful strokes.

W. Miller, who last week won the sculling championship of the United States, finished third. V. Wehmer, of Detroit; Bob Richards, of Winnipeg, and D. Maranietto, of Detroit, finished in close order. Wright's time was 1 min. 15-1/2 secs.

TAIYOS PULL TRIPLE PLAY

Japanese Nine Plays Smart Ball to Score 7 to 2 Victory Over Young Eagles

S. Ashikawa to Kuwabara to M. Ashikawa and back to Kuwabara. That is the short account of the smart triple play made by the Taiyos, leaders of the Twilight Baseball League, in their 7 to 2 victory over Young Eagles at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday evening.

The play was one of the best seen on the diamond this year and drew a big hand from the crowd.

The feat was accomplished in the third. Robinson led off for the Eagles with a single. Restall followed him with a walk. Jack Cadell smacked out a scorching drive. S. Ashikawa snagged the ball on the fly and doubled to A. Kuwabara, who nicked Robinson and then threw to M. Ashikawa for Restall.

The first sacker dropped the ball, but recovered to throw to Kuwabara to catch the Eagle on his return journey to the keystone.

M. Ishida pitched for the Taiyos, striking out six and issuing eight walks, while Gordie Keown went the route for the Eagles, fanning nine and handing out six free tickets.

Score by innings: Eagles, 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—7. Taiyos, 1 3 0 2 0 1—7.

HE IS CHALLENGING

Favorites Should Put Up Excellent Duel Over Three-mile Grind to Gorge

Entry List Swelled With Late Registrations; Race Starts at 2.30 o'Clock

It will be a battle worth watching when smiling George Burrows, Vancouver's outstanding all-round swimmer and holder of the Times Through Victoria Swim trophy, and Denny Walker, pride of the Capital's aquatic circles, renew their duel over the three-mile course in the newspaper's classic to-morrow afternoon. Both boys are in the pink of condition, groomed right up to the peak for the event, and should be able to set a merry pace over the distance. Neither of them has been bothered by cramps, and both have shown continued improvement.

Walker, who placed second to George last year, has gone ahead well recently and should be able to give the Vancouver man all the competition he can stand.

Over the long distance telephone this morning, Burrows settled all doubt as to the possibility of him not competing.

"Sure I'm coming," the cupholder declared, adding, "and I'm in good condition, too." Along with him will be George Drisco, husky Greek veteran, who last year made a noble effort in the event. To date they are the only outside contestants entered, but more may start.

NAVY MEN ENTER
Late registration to-day brought the number of competitors up to fifteen. One sure starter, R. E. N. Oram, and one possible, W. H. Appleton, will fly the colors of the Royal Canadian Navy in the grind.

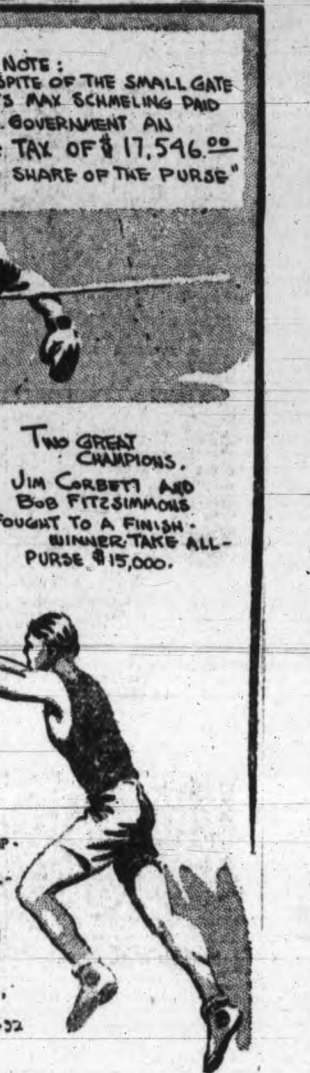

ENTRY LIST
Following is the list as it stood this morning: Stanley Why, V.A.S.C. Reginald Brown. Horace Meyer, Y.M.C.A. Thelma Aspinwall. Helen Monk. Denny Walker, C.G.S.T. Carlie Gray, C.G.S.T.

George Burrows, Vancouver A.S.C. George Drisco, Vancouver A.S.C. Oliver La Londe. Ted Stephens. Basil Kendall. F. McDonald.

R. E. N. Oram, R.C.N. W. H. Appleton, R.C.N. McDonald dropped into The Times office this morning with a hankering to take a chance at the long race.

"There are lots of boys going in the event whom I think I could beat," he said, before informing the Sports Editor he had been working out fairly

Philadelphia Set Brilliant Record In Sectional Games

Athletics Wind Up Round With Western Teams With Seventeen Victories; Defeated St. Louis 8 to 5 Yesterday; Cochrane Hits Pair of Home Runs; Washington Triumphs Over Cleveland 6 to 1; St. Louis Cardinals Turn Back Chicago 10 to 3; Pittsburgh Beats Giants.

One more round of inter-sectional games between the east and the western clubs of the major leagues has been completed with the home sectors again coming out far ahead. But a surprising form reversals in the last few weeks have proved cost to some penant contenders who hope to improve their positions in the inter-sectional perch.

Washington's Senators outshone the best performer among the visiting western clubs of the American League, but still made a comparatively poor showing and fell far behind the Philadelphia Athletics who raised their winning form to its highest degree. The Senators played sixteen games against the west and won nine of them. The Athletics, after losing their opening home game to Detroit, won seventeen straight at Shibe Park, losing only when they ventured to Cleveland for a Sunday game.

Both American League leaders wound up their stands against the west successfully yesterday, but the A's finished with an almost unbeatable lead of twelve games. Philadelphia landed on Sammy Gray of the St. Louis Browns in the early inning and brought the count up to 8 to 0 in the sixth with the aid of two home runs by Mickey Cochrane. Then the Browns began to reach Waite Hoyt, but could not overcome the lead, ending on the short end of an 8 to 6 count. The Senators likewise made an early start, finding Mel Harder of Cleveland for six hits and five runs in the first four innings and winning 6 to 1 behind the five-hit hurling of Carl Fischer.

EAST HAS BIG EDGE
The final count of the inter-sectional series in the American League was forty-eight victories for the east and twenty-five for the western visitors. In the National League the western clubs recorded forty victories in their home games, while the east took twenty-five games.

Pittsburgh's Pirates furnished the big surprise of the inter-sectional series in the elder league. The Bucs, with twenty-eight victories by far the best record, and aided the St. Louis Cardinals, who won ten and lost five, in improving their lead over their slapping eastern rivals. The Pirates, the New York Giants, 9 to 0, behind the four-hit pitching of Larry French to place themselves only three games behind the fifth place Boston Braves.

The Giants and the Brooklyn Robins had a rough journey, but the Giants managed to hold on to second place, although defeated ten times in seventeen games. The Robins, suffering from more defeat and skidded to third place at the end of the series. St. Louis, its inter-sectional series over, took on one of its leading rivals, the Chicago Cubs, yesterday, and added a game to its big margin of leadership with a 10 to 3 victory. The Cards belted Bob Smith from the mound with five hits and five runs in the sixth inning to put the game away. Young Jimmy Collins led the attack with four straight hits, including a double and a homer, while Buschling Grimes pitched a record thirteen pitching victory. The triumph put the Cards nine games ahead of the second-place Giants.

The four games made up the entire off day schedule for the major leagues.

CRICKET TEAMS Reprimanded For Breaking Rules

London, July 31.—A wrap on 1 knuckles was yesterday administered to two counties, Northamptonshire and Glamorganshire, by the Marylebone Cricket Club, the governing body of the game in England, for their action in agreeing to declare their first innings closed in a recent match when rain cut short playing time. The clubs followed the example of Gloucestershire and Yorkshire earlier in the season, and the idea was to play for decision on two innings and get to fifteen points going to an outright winner in the championship table. T.M.C.C. advised Northants and Glamorgan their action is a violation of the rules, and issued a note to all counties no more declarations by agreement can be allowed. The M.C.C. also considered what shall be done with points earned.

Henry Skelton Suspended For Cutting in; Two Mares Run Off With Honors

Regina, Sask., July 31.—Two brown mares romped off with all the honors within their grasp at the Exhibition track yesterday afternoon.

To Helen Aquilan, by Aquilan owned by Jackson Brothers and Harvie, Winnipeg, and driven by Billy Fleming, went the Non-share of the glory for, without extending herself. The mare took the free-for-all event in straight heats and equaled the track record at the Exhibition grounds in the first heat by covering the mile in 2:08 1/2. This mark was formerly shared by Prince Wood and Dick Mayburn and has stood for many years.

The other walkway was in the 2:22 event in which there was no any doubt as to the superiority of Rena Wood, a daughter of Prince Wood. She is owned by Charles Cooney, Regina, and won the mile in 2:12 in the last heat.

So outstanding were Jean Aquilan and Rena Wood that after the first heat of the 2:22 event, betting was barred on the three horses at 10 to 1 odds in the last heat.

An unfortunate accident occurred in the third race and Driver Clayton Annis of Evelyn Grattan lies in Grey Nuns Hospital at present with two broken ribs and severe bruises as a result of the crash. The last of the first upsets of the day for Woodford ran second to Rena Wood, position taken by Evelyn Grattan.

The first heat saw Art Pepper shut out by the fourth. The last named horses all paid well at 10 to 1 odds and with the exception of Kaiser, who was replaced by Peter Direct, repeated their success in the last heat.

WORLD'S LEADING TENNIS PLAYER WILL JOIN PROS.

HENRI COCHET

Paris, July 31.—Henri Cochet, the world's ranking amateur tennis player, to-day told his friends he planned to turn professional about the middle of September.

As the half ended, and play was largely at midfield.

Half-time score—New Westminster 1, Toronto Scottish 0.

SECOND HALF

Hardly a threatening gesture was made by either squad as second half play opened in desultory fashion. The few dangerous plays were engineered by Royals, Turner and D'Easum combining effectively.

Rossiter, Scottish inside, threw away what looked to be a goal for the Toronto team. From a few yards out, he drove high over the New Westminster goal bar. Spence and Kearns tested the defense.

Scottish kept up the offensive pressure, keeping play strictly in the Royal area, but they could not break through the sturdy backfield of the champions. Hogg and MacKee broke up Toronto assaults with tremendous kicking. Scottish halves joined the forwards on the attack.

Ten Royals broke away, D'Easum lifting a pass into the Toronto goalmouth to Hammond, who banged it into the net. With five minutes time left, Royals easily held their lead intact.

Line-ups: Toronto Scottish—Halliwell; Cowner and Moke; Graham, Somers and Dawson; Spence, Kearns, McIntyre, Rossiter and Erasmusson.

New Westminster—Sanford; MacKee and Hogg; Trotter, Stoddart and Stobart; Kerr, Hndler, Hammond, Turner and D'Easum.

STECHER WINS AT VANCOUVER

Scissors Expert Pins Howard Cantonwine in Fifth; London and Marshall Win

Vancouver, July 31.—Joe Stecher, ex-world heavyweight wrestling champ, snipped off Howard Cantonwine, Iowa cornstalk, in the fifth round of their scheduled eight-round match last night. Veteran Joe clipped Howard into submission with those terrible scissors holds of his, and that was about all there was to the main event on Emil Klank's weekly wrestling card.

The good Count Getasoff twisted his shoulder in practice, and thereby gummed up the whole works. To save the show Klank prevailed upon Tony Stecher, elder brother of Joe and manager of the big fellow, to go on the card.

Tony took on Willy Ted Thye, the ancient Oregonian from Portland, and got a draw out of it. Hans Schroeder, Milwaukee, took on Ronnie Kerchmeyer, the big Oklahoma boy. Ronnie took the only fall of the match and copied the decision.

New York, July 31.—Gin Garibaldi, 210, Italy, thrashed Zelesniak, 212, Russia, in 17 minutes 45 seconds of their heavyweight wrestling match at the New York Coliseum yesterday evening.

New York, July 31.—Jim London, Greece, recognized in some states as heavyweight wrestling champion, threw Peirce, Boston, in 17 minutes 5 seconds with an airplane spin at the Coney Island Velodrome yesterday evening. London scaled 201 pounds, Peirce 210.

Fresno, Cal., July 31.—Everett Marshall, LaJunta, Colo., won from Joe Vargo here yesterday evening when he tossed him in 19 minutes 46 seconds with an airplane spin, and Vargo was unable to come back for the second fall.

Boston, Mass., July 31.—Henry Deane, 218, French-Canadian claimant of the heavyweight wrestling title, won the first and third falls from Gus Sonnenberg, 205, of Boston, at Braves field yesterday evening. Sonnenberg squared the match by winning the second fall with a flying tackle in 10:30. Deane took the first by intercepting a butt in 20:20 and gained the decisive flop with a flying tackle in 19:40.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—Omar Youseff, 210, Turkey, won the main event of a wrestling card here yesterday evening when he threw Etienne Boulanger, Canada, in two straight falls. Youseff won his two falls with body slams in twenty-one and seven minutes.

Seabright, N.J., July 31.—California's two Helens, Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, San Francisco, and Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, marched into the final round of women's singles in the forty-fourth annual Seabright invitation tennis tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Moody was given the hardest kind of a battle by Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup before the Wilmington, Del., veteran surrendered at 6-4, 6-3. Miss Jacobs, on the other hand, won by default from the No. 1 ranking star, Mrs. L. A. Harper, of Oakland, Cal.

The two Helens will clash in the final round on Saturday. The highlights of to-day's schedule will be the men's singles final between the national champion, John Hope Doeg, of Newark, and Elsworth Vines, of Pasadena.

In women's doubles, Mrs. Harper and Baroness Giovanna Levi, of New York, gained the final round at the expense of Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia, and Dorothy Andrus, Stamford, Conn., 6-2, 6-3. Atlantic Passenger Rates To Be Slashed

First-class Rates To Be Reduced From 10 to 30 Per Cent. on August 17; Situation on Atlantic Is Grave, Official Declares.

Paris, July 31.—From August 17, it was announced Wednesday at the close of the meeting of the North Atlantic conference, the cost of first-class transportation on all ships between Europe and North America will be reduced from ten to thirty per cent.

Third-class rates will be reduced seven per cent. All supplementary charges, such as those for position of cabin, will no longer be required for baggage third class.

For technical reasons, it is stated, the exact details of the reductions will be withheld until August 17, the day on which they will be into effect.

Eighteen steamship companies have taken part in these decisions, and the day in making the new rates effective is due only to the necessity of giving out fractional differences which work is being done by a subcommittee of the conference.

Our decision to cut rates at this time," he said, "is an extremely grave one for us. The position of the shipping companies is far from satisfactory at the moment, and we are forced to take this step in order to protect our interests, even if in so doing we are putting restriction on the passenger, or toward increasing the opportunity to travel so that we might in any way increase the volume of business, and we hope, help the world at large."

HEATER TRAVEL LOOKED FOR
An official communiqué issued by the conference hailed the recent war moratorium plan of President Hoover and declared that the new low rates were established to meet demands of the "new world" which would eventually result from a settlement of economic problems. The conference expressed a hope that greater travel would be the result of President Hoover's action.

"The principal suspension of emigration to the United States and Canada," was given as one of the reasons for the "aggravated" condition brought upon steamship companies.

New Ferry Service To Gabriola Island Commenced To-day

Nanaimo, July 31.—The new ferry service to Gabriola Island was inaugurated this morning, when the Albatross, Capt. Thomas Higgs, made her initial trip leaving at 7:30 o'clock. The boat was specially built at New Westminster. She is forty-eight tons gross, seventy-two feet long, twenty-one feet six inches beam and is equipped with a 100-horsepower Fairbanks Diesel engine. She will make nine knots per hour, and has a carrying capacity of seventy tons. The ferry will run a moonlight excursion this evening.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, July 31.—Revised specifications for the reconstruction of the former steamer Henry County, which is to be renamed the California State and used as a training ship for West Coast merchant marine aspirants, were received by San Francisco Bay shipyards yesterday.

Original bids for the work were opened several weeks ago and the General Engineering and Drydock Company was low, but the offer was rejected as too high. The steamer has been at the Mare Island Navy Yard for several months.

Plans for the two-story bulkhead building at Pier 39 on the San Francisco waterfront for the accommodation of the Panama-Pacific line, were approved by the State Board of Harbor Commissioners here yesterday. Bids will be received August 12. The structure will cost about $50,000.

RECORD SEAL KILL IS MADE

Juneau, Alaska, July 31.—Government Fisheries officials to-day reported the take of seals on the Pribilof Islands, which was approximately 40,000, the greatest number in any season since the government took over the herds.

The herds were taken over in 1910, with the killing of the animals regulated by the government since that time.

Will Oppose Cancellation Of C.N. Route

Vancouver, July 31.—Any action by the federal government to abolish the steamship service between this port and Montreal will be protested by the transportation section of the B.C. division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, states W. P. McClelland, chairman.

When the report on Canadian National Railways and Steamships submitted before the House of Commons recently, it was suggested the inter-coastal service might be abandoned. Mr. McClelland has requested S. B. Brown, head of the transportation department of the association at Toronto, to oppose such action.

The service was inaugurated in 1924 with monthly sailings, and it has been of great value to shippers here and in the east, it is said.

The Melody Girl

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

(Copyright, 1931, by NEA Service)

Her mother snorted, and hurried upstairs. Irene was awake. "What in the world's all the commotion about?" she asked querulously, when her mother opened the door. "A telegram from you, honey. Maybe it's from Mr. Gaylord."

"Give it to me. And I think it might be better form if you said 'Pren- tice' now."

Irene put out a soft, chubby hand with finger nails that were brightly glossed. She took the telegram and tore it open quickly. Telegrams were too unusual in her life to be taken calmly. The message was considerably more than ten words in length and she had read it through while her mother waited expectantly. Then Irene waved it over her head and cried excitedly, "Mama, just listen to this! Talk about speed! This boy's got it!"

CHAPTER XXX

"Let me see it," Mrs. Everett begged, and Irene gave her the telegram. It was from Pren- tice, informing Irene that he'd be out early that day to ask her parents to let her marry him immediately. His father, he said, had wired him to cut short his vacation and return home at once. He wouldn't go without her.

When Mrs. Everett finished reading it, she looked at Irene with a light of childish excitement in her usually rapid blue eyes. "What are you going to do?" she asked.

Irene put up her arms and stretched lazily before she answered. Then, "I don't know," she said as though the matter were not important. "A faint frown creased her mother's forehead. She was thinking of Beryl—of her older daughter's implied threat to make trouble between Irene and Pren- tice. She glanced at the telegram which she still held in her hand.

"I think you ought to do as he says," she said solemnly. "His father's a big man."

Irene pouted. "I'm not going to have anyone straining my affairs for me," she declared petulantly. "Especially an in-law."

"But honey," her mother went on, "you have to consider what's best all around."

"I do not," Irene denied. "A girl has a right to make the plans for her own wedding. And I was thinking of something more elegant than a hurried-up affair. His father can just wait. Pren- tice is entitled to a vacation."

Her mother sighed. "He's had quite a nice one now; it seems to me," she said weakly. "You'll both get along much better if you don't start by turning his father against you."

"H'm," Irene remarked. "You talk as though you'd be glad to get rid of me."

Her mother let this pass. She did not wish to be driven to reveal Beryl's opposition, not at least, while there was a chance she could make Beryl suppress it.

"You know things can happen," she said suggestively. "If you really love Pren- tice, you shouldn't let him go away without you."

They understood each other perfectly. There had been no mention of Irene's love for Pren- tice. To neither of them was it necessary to the girl's happiness that she should love him. What Mrs. Everett really wanted to say, and Irene knew it, was that Irene should take him while she had the chance, if she wanted him. Otherwise there was the risk of another girl's getting him.

"I'll think it over," Irene promised with feigned indifference. Then she added as her mother moved to go, "Will you press my flowered batiste for me?"

"It's got an ink-spot on it," her mother told her, "but I'll do up the little pink sweater for you."

"Oh, that old thing," Irene said disgustedly. "I haven't a decent dress for morning wear."

She was thinking of Beryl's charming country clothes. She might sneak something out of her sister's wardrobe.

"All right, do up the sweater," she said. "I'll wear it if I have to."

She had no intention of wearing the dress if coaxing Beryl could prevent it. When her mother had gone back downstairs she hastened to Beryl's room.

Irene entered with a sweet smile and a softly spoken, "How's your old grouch this morning?"

Beryl eyed her thoughtfully. "Sit down," she said shortly. "I want to talk with you."

Irene ceased to stammer. She did not like Beryl's tone. "I haven't much time," she said doubtfully. "I just came in to see . . ."

"If you could borrow something," Beryl finished for her. "I guessed that much. Well, maybe you'll get it, but first you've got to hear what I have to say."

"Dear me! Do you have to look as though you've lost your best friend?" Irene complained.

"You'd be serious too for once in your life, perhaps, if you'd seen Tom- my Wilson as I saw him this morn- ing," Beryl snapped at her.

"This morning?" Irene repeated. "Has he been here?"

"Oh, another one of your tramps! I really don't see why mother allows you to sneak out of the house at all hours."

"Didn't you know you were driving Tommy to desperation?" Beryl cried. "How could you sit there last night with Pren- tice and hear him whistling for you?"

"So you were spying! What a sweet character to be censuring me!" Beryl ignored the words and the insulting tone. "You're going to stop this nonsense with Pren- tice's Gaylord and behave as you ought to with Tommy," she said hotly. "He's sacrificed everything for you and if the poor fellow thinks he's got to have you to be happy, why, he's going to have it. You're going to be castor oil—hard to take but good for the system. But he'll never be fit for anything until he's cured of you."

"That's a nice way to talk," Irene flared up. "What are you suggesting—a trial marriage?"

"It won't even be that," Beryl re- turned dryly. "You'll leave him when you're ready. A fair trial gives every- one a chance."

"And I suppose," Irene retorted, "when I'm through with him you'll get him. Is that the big idea?"

Beryl stared at her with sudden disdain. "No," she said quietly. "It isn't a big idea. It's just your idea."

"I won't say it's your idea," Irene cried and started to leave the room.

"Beryl stopped her. 'I'm going to tell Pren- tice that you promised to marry Tommy,' she said evenly."

Irene wheeled. "You let me alone!" she stormed. "You're always causing me trouble! I don't see why you can't mind your own business. I'm not always meddling with you!"

"Will you tell Pren- tice?" Beryl asked her. "I'll give you that opportunity to save your face. You're clever enough to get out of it with credit to yourself."

Irene's face was mounting rapidly, but it had not yet gained complete control of her. In Beryl's offer she saw a way out of her difficulty. She'd need to stall about telling Pren- tice until they were safely married. Then Beryl could do nothing.

"I think you're horrid!" she cried with temper enough to mislead Beryl. "What good would it do you for Pren- tice to know that I was engaged to Tommy?"

"That's not the point," Beryl re- turned coolly. "Will you tell him?"

"You can give me a little time to think it over, can't you?"

"No."

"Haven't you any heart at all?" Irene whined, appearing to give in.

"No."

"All right then, I'll tell him—for I know you would. You're that mean, but you needn't be so sure," she paused, thinking it was just as well not to say to Beryl that she thought Pren- tice would marry her in spite of any revelations concerning Tommy. Beryl would want to make certain that Pren- tice was told all there was to tell. She might tell him herself, at once, in her own way.

"You'll pay for this," she threat- ened, turning away. "Just you wait until I tell Mama."

"I'll wait until you tell Pren- tice," Beryl replied, "but I won't wait long."

She went on with her house clean- ing and Irene flounced out of the room to go down and tell her mother what had happened. Mrs. Everett marched upstairs to give Beryl a lecturing. After a tirade during which Beryl did not answer she ended sud- denly with, "I can't see why you in- sult me when it's so plain that you

How to Be Popular Says: Follow Golden Rule

Attivate a Good Appearance if You Would Be Popular—Brush Up on Your Manners and Your Disposition, and Lend an Attentive Ear To the Recital of Other People's Achievements

THE DESIRE for popularity is universal. We all yearn to be liked and there probably no one thing out of which we get such a genuine kick as we get out of seeing people's faces brighten at our approach and knowing that we enjoy us and admire us.

It is what causes one girl to have dozens of dates for every occasion and to have to cut her dances into fine meat, while another girl, given prettier and a better dancer, never a bean and papers the all at balls and parties. It is that makes hard-working business men get together and find some secure of a job with good pay and no work for dear old Charlie, who is a lazy ne'er-do-well.

But those whose Fairy Godmother failed to bestow upon them this magic man need not mourn without hope, for there is nothing occult about the art of popularity. It is a simple formula. If you follow its rules, you can fall and none need to be persona non grata with their fellow creatures as they are too selfish or too lazy or too stupid to make the effort to make themselves attractive.

What, then, are the things that attract people to us and make them like us?

First, I should say, our personal appearance. That is our selling approach. People literally take us at our face value, and while that need not be fatal, it must be shaved or have its complexion properly put on. We all people who are, as the phrase goes, easy on the eyes. We like to look at well-dressed, well-groomed, spry-and-span man, and at a woman who has on tidy, appropriate, well-chosen clothes. Conversely, we are repulsed by those who are sloppy and untidy and who always look so much like something the brought in that we have to be continually explaining to our friends how or good and what admirable characters they are.

The next thing is good manners. We like people who are courteous, people who are suave. People who always say and do the right thing at the right time in the right way. We like youngsters who are polite and deferential to old people. Women like men who are gallant and who pay them little attentions. Men like women who are gentle and appreciative of the things they do for them.

We like the people who do us little favors as if it was a pleasure to them. Like the people who remember our tastes and little peculiarities. We like the people who take the trouble to send us a line of congratulation when some good news comes to us or a word of sympathy when some misfortune befalls us. In word, we like the people who practice the amenities of life and we avoid the who are rude and boorish and blunt in their speaking.

The next element of popularity is adaptability. Being able to fit yourself to your crowd. Being able to get along with others without friction, being able to gumshoe around the angles in other people's dispositions and characters instead of bumping into them. No other people are sought after as those who are like off upon the troubled conversational waters and who can be counted upon to make any party go.

And no other people are so sedulously avoided as those who have a fatal tact for treading on everybody's toes and who will start a hot argument at the weather, who have religious and political views that they have to air every occasion and who will go to a bridge party when they abominate cards and ruin a golf match by discursing upon the waste of time it is to knock all about.

Next, those who would be popular must be good sports. They must play the game. They must be fair. They must not expect to boss the show and have everybody do their way. They must be willing to give and take. When they win they must not boast. When they lose they must not whine. And they must pay their part of the score. Nobody is less popular than the deadbeats who ride in other people's cars and eat other people's food and crash in on other people's parties and who can never find their pocketbooks even when they go to the movies with others.

And finally, and most of all, the secret of popularity consists in listening to other people talk about themselves instead of talking about yourself. If you can lend an ear while others pour into it the tale of how wonderful they are and what marvelous children they have and how they pulled off a big deal and how many miles their car makes on a gallon of gasoline and while they tell you all about their major and minor operations and never once enter with any of your own baby's bright sayings or tell what the doctor said to you or how much money you make, then you will have friends by the dozens and every door will be opened to you.

Oh, it is easy enough to be popular if you will just follow the Golden Rule and treat others as you would like them to treat you.

The Food We Eat

Once upon a time, we are told, this food appeared in a newspaper. For sale—Buildup: will eat anything; very fond of children.

I suppose fathers and mothers with children around the house failed to be an offer for that buildup!

What's Wrong With This Picture

There may be dogs which will "eat anything," but the dogs I have observed have not been that way. They've snarled their food before, and if it did not smell right to them they refused to eat it. Human beings can afford to take less about the food they eat. A butcher was once arrested for selling tainted chicken to patrons. He tried to defend himself by saying such meat was "good enough for a certain set of trades." What a cruel and wicked thing to say! No matter how "good" people may be, they do not eat spoiled meat.

Fortunately there are few butchers who would sell meat unfit for people to eat. The greater danger comes from what happens to meat after it reaches the household. Meat should be kept in a cool place, and should be covered so it cannot be touched.

Electric refrigerators are ideal for storing food. I hope the day will come when they are sold at a price low enough for every household to have one. Food of all kinds should be kept strictly clean until it is eaten. A tempting cake becomes less tempting if it is visited by houseflies. Some day I may write a series of articles about vitamins—food elements which are important to health. The subject is a large one and should be given due space. For the present I shall give you just a few short lists of important foods which supply vitamins:

Fruits: Oranges, grapefruit, lemons, raisins, apples and bananas. Vegetables: Tomatoes, cabbage, carrots, peas, lettuce, sweet potatoes, string beans, whole wheat and whole rice.

Dairy products: Milk, cream, butter and cheese. (You may place this article in "Health" section of your scrapbook. To-morrow—A Little Saturday Talk
